JAMES L. DOLAN

Chairman, Madison Square Garden — President and Chief Executive Officer, Cablevision Systems Corporation

As chairman of Madison Square Garden, James L. Dolan oversees MSG's many entities, including its world-famous arena complex, professional sports teams, sports and entertainment networks, and historic showplaces. Mr. Dolan also serves as president and chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, one of the nation's leading media and entertainment companies, and MSG's corporate parent.

In his leadership role at MSG, Mr. Dolan is responsible for the company's overall growth strategy and oversees all of its operations. He serves as governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

To ensure the standing of MSG's premier venues, Mr. Dolan has taken on a number of renovation projects throughout his tenure. He is currently overseeing a state-of-the-art renovation of MSG that will completely transform the arena's interior. Mr. Dolan was also the catalyst for a restoration of the group's Beacon Theatre, which was restored to its former grandeur in early 2009. Among his most significant accomplishments as MSG chairman, Mr. Dolan spearheaded a multimillion-dollar restoration of Radio City Music Hall, returning the national landmark and MSG showpiece to its original splendor.

Over the past few years, Mr. Dolan has taken additional steps to expand MSG's entertainment properties. They include the addition of The Chicago Theatre, which was built in 1921 as one of the country's most opulent motion picture houses. MSG also extended its music business, acquiring a minority-equity interest in Front Line Management, the entertainment industry's largest personal music management firm.

Mr. Dolan has led MSG's response to local and national tragedies. He played a principal role in organizing "The Concert For New York City," which generated more than $35 million dollars in aid for 9/11 victims and heroes, and "From The Big Apple to The Big Easy," which raised nearly $9 million for Hurricane Katrina relief. Mr. Dolan also supports MSG's ongoing commitment to the community, particularly through the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that partners with MSG to help children throughout the New York metropolitan area.

As Cablevision president and chief executive officer, Mr. Dolan oversees the company's comprehensive portfolio of advanced, Optimum-branded residential and business telecommunications services, as well as Newsday, one of the nation's largest daily newspapers, serving the New York area. Rainbow Media's national and regional television programming networks, comprised of AMC, IFC, Sundance Channel, WE tv and News 12 Networks, also fall under his purview. In addition, Mr. Dolan is responsible for overseeing Cablevision's other entertainment businesses, including Clearview Cinemas, one of the tri-state area's leading motion picture exhibitors.

Prior to assuming his present posts at Cablevision and MSG, in the early 1990s, Mr. Dolan served as chief executive officer of Rainbow Programming Holdings, Inc. (now Rainbow Media Holdings LLC). He oversaw all facets of the business, which today operates a wide range of compelling program networks reaching hundreds of millions of households in the United States and abroad. Mr. Dolan began his career with Cablevision in the 1970s and served in a variety of executive positions before overseeing Rainbow.

Mr. Dolan is a member of the board of directors of The Lustgarten Foundation, an organization he helped found in 1998 which today is the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research. He also sits on the boards of the NYU Steinhardt Dean's Council and the Breathe Easy Play Hard Foundation. In addition, Mr. Dolan is a member of Cablevision Systems Corporation's board of directors and serves on its executive committee.

HANK J. RATNER

Vice Chairman, Madison Square Garden — Vice Chairman, Cablevision Systems Corporation

Hank J. Ratner is vice chairman of Madison Square Garden and its many entities, which include renowned performance venues, entertainment properties, professional sports teams and television networks. Mr. Ratner also serves as vice chairman of Cablevision Systems Corporation, MSG's corporate parent.

As MSG's vice chairman, Mr. Ratner directs the overall growth strategy and day-to-day operations of the business. He also serves as alternate governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

MSG's signature assets consist of some of the nation's most popular entertainment and sports properties, including "The World's Most Famous Arena," along with New York's Radio City Music Hall and Beacon Theatre, and The Chicago Theatre. Other MSG entities include the New York Knicks, Rangers and Liberty; MSG Entertainment, a live-entertainment company; MSG and MSG Plus, regional sports and entertainment networks; and Fuse, a national music network. In addition, MSG owns a minority-equity interest in Front Line Management, the industry's largest personal music management firm, and has an exclusive co-booking agreement with the Wang Theatre, Boston's venerable performing arts venue.

Among his most recent endeavors, Mr. Ratner is spearheading the renovation of MSG, which will transform the arena's interior into a state-of-the-art building that will significantly enhance the experience of customers, marketing partners, athletes and performers. The project will include a dramatically redesigned Seventh Avenue entrance, new seats, improved sightlines, spectacular public concourses and a restoration of the Garden's distinctive and celebrated ceiling.

A long-time Cablevision executive, Mr. Ratner helps to set corporate direction and strategy for the company. In addition, he is the primary executive responsible for overseeing Cablevision's major business partnerships and transactions, working closely with its Chief Executive Officer and MSG Chairman James Dolan on the company's overall advancement.

Prior to being named MSG and Cablevision vice chairman, Mr. Ratner served as vice chairman of Rainbow Media Holdings, the programming subsidiary of Cablevision. At Rainbow, he helped lead the executive management team that has directed AMC, IFC, Bravo, WE tv, Fuse, Lifeskool, News 12 Networks, Rainbow Advertising Sales Corporation and Rainbow Sports Networks.

Throughout his tenure, Mr. Ratner has been influential in formulating and implementing management activity and strategic direction for Rainbow, Cablevision and MSG. He played a key role in bringing two of the country's landmark showplaces – New York City's legendary Beacon Theatre and the historic Chicago Theatre – under MSG management. In addition, he helped to secure a multi-year deal between MSG and the world-renowned Cirque du Soleil. In 2005, Mr. Ratner led Cablevision's negotiations with Fox to restructure the ownership of assets held by Regional Programming Partners, a partnership between the two companies. This restructuring gave Cablevision, among other benefits, 100 percent ownership of MSG and its properties.

In addition, Mr. Ratner has a long history of managing Cablevision's sports and entertainment programming rights and relationships, as well as its programming development efforts. This included negotiating Rainbow's sale of Bravo to NBC. Mr. Ratner also played a primary role in the agreement between Rainbow and MGM, and the establishment and management of Rainbow's long and fruitful partnership with NBC.

As chairman of the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit that works closely with all areas of Madison Square Garden, Mr. Ratner has been a driving force behind the creation and significant expansion of the charity's programs, enhancing its commitment to make dreams come true for children facing enormous obstacles. Since its inception in 2006, Garden of Dreams has created more than 1,000 once-in-a-lifetime experiences at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, the Beacon Theatre and at MSG Training Center, brightening the lives of more than 120,000 tri-state area children in crisis, and their families.

Mr. Ratner joined Cablevision as assistant general counsel in 1987. A year later, he moved to Rainbow Media, rising to the position of Rainbow's chief operating officer in 1998. Mr. Ratner was then promoted to vice chairman of Rainbow Media in 2002 before moving to Cablevision and MSG later that year.

Previously, Mr. Ratner was an associate with the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell. He received a Bachelor's degree and Doctorate of Law with distinction from Emory University.

DONNIE WALSH
President, Basketball Operations

One of the game's most respected executives for more than two decades, Donnie Walsh returned to his native Big Apple when he was named president, basketball operations of the Knickerbockers on Apr. 2, 2008. Now in his second season in New York, he has already dramatically changed the face of one of the NBA's premier franchises.

Walsh's first season in New York was defined by a desire not only to address the franchise's immediate needs, but also to map out a path to long-term success. Under new Head Coach Mike D'Antoni, the Knicks registered a nine-game improvement in the standings (from 23 wins to 32), finished fourth in the NBA in team scoring (105.2) and played before 23 home sellouts. During the course of the season, Walsh engineered a series of trades that not only brought in numerous veterans, but also cleared the way for the Knicks to get under the NBA's Salary Cap (in 2010) for the first time in more than a decade.

It was a stunning, headline-making year. But Walsh knew it was only a first step.

"As a franchise, I think we have work to do in all the areas," says the 68-year old Walsh. "I think we have to get better in every area, including myself. This is a hard job, probably the hardest I've ever taken. It's not going to get better by itself. We just have to be better than we are right now."

Much has changed in New York since Walsh departed nearly five decades ago to embark on a coaching and executive odyssey that has taken him to the heights of his profession. But one thing has never changed: the passion for Knicks basketball in the greatest city in the world.

"I thought the support we got from the fans was unbelievable. We wouldn't have gotten that anywhere else," says Walsh. "I understand New York. That probably helped me, compared to someone who doesn't. I live in the City, everything you could want is right there. People are very nice to me. I found that part of it to be great."

Walsh joined the Knicks following a 24-year tenure with the Indiana Pacers, over which he built the Pacers into one of the NBA's elite franchises. Walsh is currently the League's longest-tenured basketball decision-maker.

"I consider it a privilege to be working with one of the charter teams in the NBA, and to come back to the city I call home," said Walsh upon his appointment. "New York is a very special place for me and it is an honor to be joining this franchise. Knicks fans are among the most loyal and knowledgeable group anywhere in the League, and we will be dedicated to giving all New Yorkers a winning team."

The Bronx native originally joined the Pacers as an assistant coach in 1984. He was promoted to general manager in 1986, to president of the Pacers Basketball Corporation (now Pacers Sports & Entertainment) in 1988 and, on Jul. 11, 2003, to chief executive officer and president. Under Walsh's leadership, the Pacers won four Central Division Championships, made six trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, and climaxed Walsh's tenure with the 2000 Eastern Conference Championship.

Over a 10-year period that concluded with the 2004-05 season, the Pacers had the best winning percentage (.602) of any team in the Eastern Conference. The Pacers won 50-plus games five times under Walsh's stewardship, and made the NBA Playoffs 16 times over a 17-year span from 1989-90 through 2005-06. Highlighting that stretch were six memorable Playoff series against the Knicks which the two teams split 3-3, including Indiana's triumph over New York in the 2000 Eastern Finals which earned the Pacers their first trip to The NBA Finals. With the Pacers, Walsh brought three of the game's most respected names - Hall of Famers Larry Brown, Larry Bird and Isiah Thomas - to coach the team.

"What you can't lose sight of is that it all revolves around the team itself. Your team is going to reflect your franchise," says Walsh. "We're in a professional sports world where, in order to be a successful company, you've got to be good. And the team's got to be good in two ways: It's got to be successful in wins and losses, and it's also got to be well-liked and well-identified by the fans."

In addition to his success with the NBA Pacers, Walsh oversaw major projects for Pacers Sports & Entertainment, including the opening of Conseco Fieldhouse in 1999 and the creation of the WNBA's Indiana Fever that same year. Considered one of the game's true showplaces, the state-of-the-art Fieldhouse owes much of its "retro" feel to Walsh's input and memories from his days as a fan at the Old Garden on 49th Street. ("The excitement of walking into that lobby; I remember how exciting that was," he says). In addition, he was a member of the U.S. Olympic Games Committee for the 1992 and 1996 men's basketball squads.

Walsh's basketball pedigree took firm root on the streets of New York City. An outstanding high school player at Fordham Prep, he scored a game-high 23 points to earn Most Valuable Player honors in the 1958 Herald Tribune High School All-Star Game at the Old Garden on Mar. 29, 1958. Walsh then played at the University of North Carolina under the legendary coaching duo of Frank McGuire and Dean Smith.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School and helped coach the Tar Heels' freshman team for two seasons. After graduating from law school and turning down offers from then-former Vice President Richard Nixon's law firm in New York City and the U.S. Justice Department's Honors programs, he took a graduate coaching position under Smith at North Carolina and then became an associate head coach under McGuire at South Carolina.

In 1977, Walsh was about to enter private law practice in South Carolina, but Brown, the head coach of the Denver Nuggets, asked Walsh to join him as an assistant. Walsh stayed with the Nuggets as an assistant coach and then as head coach - compiling a 60-82 mark over three seasons - before entering private business in 1982. He joined the Pacers in 1984 as an assistant under Head Coach George Irvine.

In 2000-01, Walsh earned recognition from Bloomberg News Service as the NBA's top basketball executive in a vote of the league's coaches. In June 2004, he was honored with the Indiana Pathfinder Award for his contributions to causes involving Indiana youth. After joining the Knicks - in the summer of 2009 - he was honored in his hometown as a Rucker Park Pro Legend.

Born in Manhattan on Mar. 1, 1941, Donnie was raised in the same neighborhood that Lou Gehrig lived in his final days, Riverdale. He and his wife Judy - both Big Apple natives - have five children and live in Indianapolis. They also are avid dog lovers.

SCOTT O'NEIL

President, MSG Sports

Scott O'Neil was named president, Madison Square Garden Sports in July 2008. In this role, he oversees all aspects of business operations for the three professional sports teams, the New York Knicks, Rangers and Liberty, as well as the Sports Properties area, which includes college basketball, boxing, tennis and all other sports events. He also manages marketing partnerships and suite sales for the soon to be renovated Garden.

Since joining Madison Square Garden, O'Neil has attracted premier talent from around the sports world to lead the business in establishing an innovative, passionate and results-oriented culture. He has directed a refocused commitment to providing first class service to fans, subscribers and marketing partners, resulting in growth across all areas of the division.

O'Neil comes to Madison Square Garden from the National Basketball Association, where, as senior vice president, he oversaw the league's team marketing and business operations, advising NBA and WNBA teams on ticket sales and service, sponsorship development, and marketing. He also managed the NBA's Canadian business and the NBA Development League. Prior to joining the NBA, he oversaw the launch of HoopsTV, and honed his sales and marketing expertise with the Philadelphia Eagles and New Jersey Nets.

O'Neil was named to Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal Forty Under 40 Hall of Fame, and was named one of the nation's top marketing executives under 40 by Advertising Age (2006). He is also a member of Young Presidents' Organization (YPO), a not-for-profit, global network of chief executives connected around the shared mission of becoming better leaders through education and idea exchange. O'Neil dedicates his time to working with a number of non-profit organizations, including serving as a Board Member for the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that works with all areas of Madison Square Garden to "make dreams come true for kids in crisis." In addition, he is on the Advisory Board for the Each One Counts Foundation, which works to ease the pain and suffering of chronically and terminally ill children; and is a Board Member for the TRU Foundation, which helps generate awareness and funding for programs to assist those afflicted by depression.

He holds a degree in Marketing from Villanova University and M.B.A. from the Harvard Business School. O'Neil resides in New Jersey with his wife and three daughters.

GLEN GRUNWALD

Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations

One of the NBA's most respected and versatile executives, Glen Grunwald is in his fourth season as the Knickerbockers' senior vice president, basketball operations.

Joining the Knicks on Sep. 26, 2006, Grunwald is responsible for all administrative aspects of the team's basketball operations, including managing the operating budget, salary cap, as well as assisting in all day-to-day operations, player personnel decisions, trades and acquisitions.

"We've established a strategy that will permit us to improve the team in the not-too-distant future," says the 51-year old Grunwald. "I think we've put ourselves in a position now to be able to acquire players and add to the good players that we already have, so that we can become a competitive team, a Playoff team, and then someday hopefully compete for an NBA Championship."

Grunwald joined the Knicks following a decade (1994-2004) with the Toronto Raptors, including seven seasons as general manager, a period in which he built the Raptors into one of the elite teams in the Eastern Conference. As an original member of the Raptors' front office, he presided over an extensive building process that is greatly similar to that of the current Knicks, and few executives are more aware of the risks - and rewards - of such a plan.

"It's a challenge, but at the same time it can be done," says Glen. "Although there are lots of naysayers and criticism that comes along with rebuilding, if you stick to your plan and get good people involved, which I think we have here with the Knicks, it can come to fruition. Unfortunately there are no guarantees, but we're hopeful that we're on the right track."

Named Raptors general manager on Nov. 20, 1997, Grunwald spearheaded Toronto's drive toward elite status by acquiring the likes of Vince Carter, Antonio Davis, Morris Peterson and Charles Oakley. Under his direction, the Raptors advanced to the NBA Playoffs for three straight seasons (2000-01-02). In 2001, the Raptors defeated the Knicks in the first round of the Playoffs (New York's first opening-round loss since 1991), and came within one game of advancing to the Eastern Conference Finals. Grunwald served as Raptors general manager through the 2003-04 campaign.

Grunwald originally joined the Raptors on Nov. 8, 1994 as vice president, legal affairs and assistant general manager. For the next three years, he helped implement the on- and off-the-court business plan that made the Raptors a model for all expansion franchises. During the Raptors' formative years, Grunwald was responsible for the administrative, financial and legal aspects of the team's basketball operations, playing a key role in all areas from the 1995 expansion draft to player personnel decisions. He also served as the team's resident salary cap expert, and also provided his legal expertise in sponsorship, marketing and contract issues.

Prior to joining the Raptors, Grunwald served four years as vice president, general counsel for the Denver Nuggets. With the Nuggets, he was responsible for all legal, human resources and administrative matters, while managing the club's salary cap. He was also involved in all aspects of team management, including sales, promotions and basketball operations. Grunwald joined the Nuggets after working as an attorney with the Chicago law firm of Winston and Strawn.

In joining the Knicks, Grunwald left a position with Toronto's Board of Trade, where he had served as president and CEO since December 2004. A former member of the board of directors of Canada Basketball, he is chairman and part owner of the HoopDome, a multi-court public basketball facility at Toronto's Downsview Park.

Grunwald graduated from Indiana University in 1981, where he played alongside Isiah Thomas and co-captained the Hoosiers' 1981 NCAA Championship squad. At Indiana, he was a Rhodes Scholar nominee and a two-time Big Ten All-Academic Second Team selection. He was the Celtics' fifth-round pick in the 1981 NBA Draft.

Grunwald earned his Law degree from Northwestern in 1984 and added a Master's degree in Business Administration from Indiana in 1986.

The Chicago native and his wife Heather are proud parents of son Will (7). Grunwald also has a son, Gabe (16) and a daughter, Emma (15). The Grunwald family lives in Westchester.

Mike D'Antoni's high-octane brand of basketball, one that has thrilled fans in every corner of the world, has found a home in the world's greatest basketball city.

In his first year at the helm of the Knickerbockers, one of the NBA most successful coaches of the last decade put his unique imprint on The City Game.

Registering a nine-game improvement in the win column, D'Antoni's Knicks finished fourth in the NBA with a 105.2 scoring average, New York's highest since 1989-90 (108.3). With the three-point basket a main part of the team's arsenal, the Knicks led the NBA with a club record 823 three-point field goals, smashing the old club mark of 606 set in 2002-03 and falling just shy of the all-time NBA record of 837 set by D'Antoni's Phoenix Suns in 2005-06. New York also set an NBA single-season record with 2,284 three-point attempts. New Yorkers responded to the D'Antoni style by selling out the Garden 23 times, including 15 sellouts in the final 18 home dates.

"That's why I do this job, because it is an entertaining business," says D'Antoni, who was named the 24th head coach in Knicks franchise history on May 13, 2008. "Our number one goal is to win, but I believe you can win and entertain at the same time and that's what we're getting to, as long as the guys are playing hard and we're improving. The fans have been super and we should be held to a high standard. The overall experience has been fantastic. The only thing I want to give them is a team they can be proud of - an entertaining and winning team."

It was the kind of offensive performance that has become synonymous with D'Antoni, who came to New York after piloting the Phoenix Suns to four straight 50-plus win seasons and three Pacific Division Championships with a trademark high-speed offensive game.

Over seven seasons as an NBA head coach, D'Antoni owns a career record of 299-222 (.574), including 253-136 (.650) in five years with Phoenix. The NBA's Coach of the Year in 2004-05, he is the third-winningest coach in Suns franchise history (253), trailing only John MacLeod (579) and the late Cotton Fitzsimmons (341). His .650 winning percentage is second in Suns history to Paul Westphal's .685. Mike's first victory of the 2009-10 season will enable him to become the 54th head coach in NBA history to amass 300 career wins.

"As an executive, you couldn't be working with a better guy and a better coach than Mike, in trying to do this with," says Knicks President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh. "(His) ability to keep his eye on where we're going, I appreciate that a lot. He seems to handle that really well. I love working with him, personally. He's so positive in his style, he's so well-thought out. He just shows confidence, and the players like playing for him."

Originally joining the Suns as an assistant coach in June 2002, D'Antoni, 58, succeeded Frank Johnson as head coach in December 2003. In his four full seasons as Suns headmaster (2004-05 through 2007-08), the Suns won 50-plus games each year, including two 60-plus-win campaigns (62-20 in 2004-05, 61-21 in 2006-07). D'Antoni's Suns won three straight Pacific Division crowns (2005 through 2007) and advanced to the Western Conference Finals twice (2005 and 2006).

D'Antoni's up-tempo offense enabled the Suns to lead the NBA in scoring for three consecutive years (2004-05 through 2006-07). In 2004-05, D'Antoni's Suns averaged 110.4 points, increased their win total from 29 to 62, and registered a 16.2-point-per-game increase (from 94.2), the biggest single-season jump for any NBA team since the advent of the shot clock in 1954-55. The Suns averaged better than 110 points in three of D'Antoni's four full seasons at the helm.

D'Antoni was the NBA's Coach of the Year in 2004-05, as the Suns became the second of three teams in NBA history (1979-80 Celtics, 2007-08 Celtics) to follow a 50-loss season with a 60-win campaign. With the Suns, he was honored four times as NBA Western Conference Coach of the Month, and earned head coaching honors at NBA All-Star 2007 in Las Vegas, guiding the West to a 153-132 victory. D'Antoni was named Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations and General Manager of the Suns on Mar. 10, 2006.

Joining the Denver Nuggets as director of player personnel in 1997-98, D'Antoni's NBA head coaching career began the following year, when he led the Nuggets to a 14-36 mark in the lockout-shortened 1998-99 campaign. He also served one season (1999-2000) as a scout for the San Antonio Spurs, and one year (2000-01) as an assistant coach with the Portland Trail Blazers under Mike Dunleavy.

D'Antoni's passion and love for basketball has taken him from the mountains of West Virginia to the professional ranks of the NBA, ABA, across Italy and throughout Europe, as his resume includes over three decades of pro hoop experience on both sides of the Atlantic. USA Basketball named him to the Men's Senior National Team Program coaching staff for 2006-08 as an assistant, and his implementation of a wide-open offense played a major role in Team USA's gold medal at the 2008 Beijing Olympics. In July 2009, D'Antoni was once again named to Head Coach Mike Krzyzewski's staff for USA Basketball's Senior Men's team for 2010-12.

Just prior to joining the Suns, D'Antoni coached Benetton Treviso of the Italian League, leading the club to a 28-8 mark and the Italian League championship in 2001-02. An Italian League legend, D'Antoni also coached Benetton from 1994-95 through 1996-97, capturing the Cup of Europe and Cup of Italy in 1995 and the Italian League title in 1996-97. He also piloted Philips Milan for four seasons (1990-91 through 1993-94) and led the club to the 1993 Korac Cup. During his tenure in Italy, D'Antoni - a dual citizen of the United States and Italy - led his teams to the playoffs each season and was twice voted the league's Coach of the Year. In 2008, Mike was named one of the 50 Most Influential Personalities in European Club Basketball history by Euroleague Basketball.

MIKE D'ANTONI
Head Coach

Over four NBA seasons with the Kansas City-Omaha Kings (1973-74 through 1975-76) and San Antonio Spurs (1976-77), D'Antoni averaged 3.3 points over 130 games. He also played in 50 games for the legendary Spirits of St. Louis in the ABA's final season (1975-76). With the Kings in 1974-75, he was a roommate of current Houston Rockets Head Coach Rick Adelman.

After a two-game stint with the Spurs in November 1976, D'Antoni moved to Italy where he played 13 seasons for Milan of the Italian League and became the club's all-time leading scorer (12.6 ppg). Mike was voted the League's all-time greatest point guard in 1990 and paced Milan to five Italian League titles, two Cups of Europe, two Cups of Italy, one Korac Cup and one Intercontinental Cup.

He was selected to play on the Italian national team for the European Championships in 1989 and was a part of the Milan team that competed in the inaugural McDonald's Open in 1987. In 1978, D'Antoni tried out for the Chicago Bulls, but opted to remain in Italy where he stayed until he returned to the NBA as the Nuggets' director of player personnel in 1997.

Fluent in English and Italian, D'Antoni has co-authored two books: Playmaker, with former Milan head coach Dan Peterson, and Vivendo Giacando, with Italian sportswriter Tullio Lauro. He also served as an analyst for NBA.com following the 1998-99 regular season and worked as a broadcast analyst for Team USA throughout the 2003 FIBA Americas Men's Olympic Tournament in San Juan.

Born on May 8, 1951, the Mullens, West Virginia native played at Marshall University and graduated in 1973 as the school's career assist leader (659; now second to Greg White's 701). He was a GTE Academic All-American in 1973.

Mike's father, Lewis, is a legendary high school basketball coach in West Virginia and Ohio, and was inducted into West Virginia's Sports Hall of Fame in May 2004. His brother Dan served as an assistant coach in Phoenix before joining him on the Knicks staff. Both Mike (1997) and Dan (1990) have been enshrined in the Marshall University Athletics Hall of Fame.

D'Antoni and his wife Laurel, whom he met in Milan, Italy, have one son, Michael.

HERB WILLIAMS

Assistant Coach

As familiar to Knicks fans as the orange and blue, Herb Williams is the senior bench coach on the club's staff. And the Herb of today is a different - and better - mentor than the one that embarked on his NBA coaching career nearly a decade ago.

"Not even close, because you learn so many things," says the 51-year old Williams. "It's not only coaching the game, it's managing personalities and how you handle people, and what you do in certain situations. That's always changing. Before, you might have treated a player a certain way or talked to him a certain way. You probably can't do that now. You've got to know who you can get on and can't get on. Managing personalities is a big part of the game."

One of the game's most respected figures, Williams is in his eighth full season (ninth season overall) on the Knicks' bench. Following nearly two decades as a player, Herb joined the Knicks' staff as an assistant coach on Dec. 29, 2001. Since then, his coaching career has become every bit as noteworthy as his playing days.

Included in Williams' coaching tenure is an overall mark of 17-27 as Knicks head coach. Succeeding Lenny Wilkens as Knicks headmaster on Jan. 22, 2005, Herb piloted New York for the remainder of the 2004-05 season, going 16-27. He also notched a 120-110 win over Orlando as interim coach on Jan. 14, 2004, prior to Wilkens' formal arrival.

Williams has also served as head coach of the Knicks' entries in the 2003 Reebok Boston Summer Pro League and the 2004 LA Summer Pro League in Long Beach. As an assistant coach, he has served under head coaches Don Chaney, Lenny Wilkens, Larry Brown, Isiah Thomas and now Mike D'Antoni. He assumed the reins of the Knicks for the final five games of the 2005-06 season, during Brown's illness.

A player during the Knicks' grind-it-out days of the 1990s, Herb witnessed the seismic shift that came with the arrival of D'Antoni's free-wheeling style of play.

"It's sort of like a new life, because that's the way the League has evolved," says Williams. "Before, when you had 75- or 80-point games, I think the League might have felt that the fans would appreciate more scoring, so a lot of the rules changed. Now it's a free-flowing game and if you open it up, run pick-and-rolls and get the ball up and down the court, fans are buying into that. That's what they want to see. Now, at the end of the day, you're still going to have to make some stops, but the fans in New York have adapted, they like it and they appreciate what Mike's trying to do."

During his playing tenure, Williams was a force in New York's locker room as a leader with assests that only a wily veteran could posess. For three seasons (1996-97 through 1998-99), he served as Knicks tri-captain. His knowledge and leadership qualities made him a natural for his new career.

"Herb is a solid person with a vast knowledge of the NBA," says D'Antoni. "He brings a wealth of experience and great character to the team."

As a Knick, Herb became a Garden fan favorite as Hall of Famer Patrick Ewing's primary backup in the pivot as well as a guiding force off the court. His final on-court appearance - a scoreless minute in Game Five of The 1999 NBA Finals against San Antonio - made him the oldest Knick ever to appear in a game (41 years, four months, nine days).

Few Knicks connected with New York fans better than Herb. And few know them better.

"When you talk to fans in New York, you've got to love them. They're the best fans, and I say that with all sincerity," says Williams. "They are the best fans anywhere, because one thing they will do is show you their emotion. We all know how they feel, and they have no problem letting you know that. There's no misconception about how they feel about your play. But the one thing you always know is that they're in your corner no matter what.

"It's almost like you have a little brother or family member...you're allowed to criiticize them, but nobody else better. And they won't say `the Knicks' or 'you guys'. They'll always say, `'we'. You know? `We need to get better' or `We need to do this or do that.' That's letting you know right there that they feel a part of it. You embrace the criticism because you know it's coming from the heart."

Williams' coaching tenure follows a distinguished playing career that spanned 18 seasons (1981-82 through 1998-99), just three shy of the all-time NBA record of 21 shared by Robert Parish and Kevin Willis. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Herb is one of only nine players in NBA history to appear in a game following his 41st birthday, along with Parish, Willis, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Bob Cousy, Nat Hickey, Charles Jones, John Stockton and Dikembe Mutombo.

Indiana's first-round pick (14th overall) in the 1981 NBA Draft, the 6-foot-11 Williams averaged 10.8 points, 5.9 rebounds and shot .467 from the field for the Pacers, Mavericks, Raptors and Knicks. He scored 11,944 points in 1,102 career games. Herb played the first 7½ seasons of his career with Indiana, and is third in blocked shots (1,094; behind only Jermaine O'Neal and Rik Smits) and eighth in total rebounds (4,494) on the Pacers' all-time franchise lists.

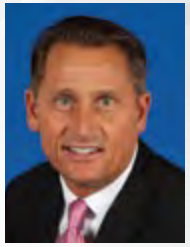
Williams spent virtually all of the final seven years of his playing career as a Knick, and was one of only two players (along with Ewing) to be a member of both of the Knicks' Eastern Conference Championship teams of 1994 and 1999. He originally signed with the Knicks as a free agent on Nov. 15, 1992. Williams was part of two separate trades (to Toronto on Feb. 18, 1996 and to Philadelphia on Feb. 19, 1998), but quickly returned to the Big Apple just days after both.

Williams averaged 17.6 points and 9.7 rebounds in a four-year college career at Ohio State, and became the first Buckeye in school history to record more than 2,000 career points (2,011).

Born on Feb. 16, 1958 in the capital city of Ohio, Columbus, Williams was a recreation major at Ohio State. Herb has two children - Erica (23, a 2008 graduate of George Washington University) and Jabrille (17, a high school hoop star) - and lives in Stamford, CT. Off the court, Herb is extremely involved in the community, spending countless hours with area youth. In his spare moments, he is one of the Knicks' most devoted golfers.

PHIL WEBER

Assistant Coach



Phil Weber's enthusiasm and optimism has found a home in New York...which, really, was home all along.

The Long Island-native returned to the Big Apple on Jun. 20, 2008, when he joined the Knickerbockers' coaching staff. Now in his second season on the New York bench, the Manhattan resident feels the city's pulse and passion for its basketball team.

"Living down in the City, it's incredible just to see the reality of how passionate the New York fans are," says Weber, a veteran of more than a decade of NBA coaching. "We had a sub-par year in relation to what we experienced in Phoenix, but yet the people sensed and, I believe, they saw that we were on the path moving forward. We had nine more wins than in the previous year, and hopefully we were able to establish a foundation that we're able to build for the franchise moving forward. But the New York fans and being part of games in the Garden is incredible."

Weber is currently in his 11th season as an NBA coach. Prior to joining the Knicks, he spent nine seasons as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns (1999-2000 through 2007-08). Phil has also coached the Knicks squad at the 2008 and 2009 NBA Summer League in Las Vegas.

"You can meet someone who's as positive as I am, but you can't meet someone who's more positive than I am," says the animated Weber. "I say that because I don't think we use enough positive tension in our life."

"Phil brings great enthusiasm and optimism to the Knicks," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni. "He's also a guy who's very good at teaching the fundamentals of shooting and, again, his spirit is very winning."

Weber was a member of Mike D'Antoni's coaching staff that led the Suns to three consecutive Pacific Division titles (2005, 2006, 2007). He served as head coach of the Suns' 2006 and 2007 Vegas Summer League teams, and also worked with the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team as they prepared for the 2006 FIBA Men's World Championships in Japan. Phil also joined D'Antoni as an assistant coach for the West squad at NBA All-Star 2007 in Las Vegas. With the Suns, he served under head coaches Danny Ainge, Scott Skiles, Frank Johnson and D'Antoni.

"I'm nowhere near where I want to be (as a coach)," says Weber. "I'm striving to learn all the time. And I'm going to be a different coach in five years because you always grow. All the coaches I've worked with have taught me an incredible amount. I always think you need to be a sponge and keep growing. And Mike is absolutely the best to work with."

Prior to joining the Suns, Weber teamed with former Knick and current Nets General Manager Kiki Vandeweghe to form an academy for NBA player development in Los Angeles. The program helped develop the likes of Shawn Marion, Baron Davis, Jalen Rose and Pat Garrity.

Weber's coaching career began in 1984 at the University of Florida under Head Coach Norm Sloan. He was on the Gators staff for five seasons, helping lead the team to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1987 and the Southeastern Conference title in 1989.

"I got inspiration from Jimmy V, I got a hard-nosed attitude from Norm, I got Skiles' defensive prowess, I got Danny's creativity, and Mike is one of the best offensive minds ever," says Weber. "So my pedigree is pretty good from that standpoint."

Following his Florida tenure, Weber spent a year traveling around the country to observe 16 different major college programs before spending one season as an assistant coach at Chaminade University in Hawaii. He was on the coaching staff at Iona College from 1991-95.

A native of Northport, NY, Weber helped Long Island Lutheran HS to a state title before playing collegiately at North Carolina State for Sloan and Jim Valvano. A four-year letterman, Weber redshirted during the Wolfpack's 1982-83 NCAA title season. He earned his degree in Business from North Carolina State in 1984. Phil's parents still live on Long Island, where his father coached basketball for over a decade at Cold Spring Harbor HS.

"It's a whole new ballgame," says Phil. "When I coached in Phoenix, my parents and some friends would sporadically come in. But now on a nightly basis my family's able to be there for all the games. It's great."

Phil is single in lives in Manhattan's popular Meatpacking District/Chelsea section.

DAN D'ANTONI
Assistant Coach

Dan D'Antoni's basketball life has spanned both decades and miles, yet he still hadn't experienced anything quite like the moment he calls his personal favorite from his first year in the Big Apple.

"I'd kind of been chiding Jared (Jeffries) into dunking the ball and finishing a little more powerfully," recalls Dan. "I said, `If you'll just dunk one and run by the bench, we'll chest-bump'. So one night toward the end of the year he did and if you watch, he came by the bench and we chest-bumped. For a 62-year-old guy to get both feet off the ground, which I did, I think that was the highlight. I don't know about the chest bump, but my feet getting off the ground was definitely a highlight."

Dan undoubtedly looks forward to similar moments in this, his second season on the Knicks' staff and his fifth overall NBA coaching campaign. The older brother of Head Coach Mike D'Antoni, Dan officially joined the Knicks on Jun. 20, 2008. He came to New York following three seasons (2005-06 through 2007-08) as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns, helping to guide Phoenix to Pacific Division titles in 2006 and 2007.

Following the Suns' perennial success under his brother's tutelage, Dan recognized the challenge that lay ahead in New York.

"Any time you come in where a franchise is trying to retool and rebuild from seasons that were not reaching the expectations that people had, it might have been a little more difficult than I first imagined," he says. "However, going through the year, I thought Donnie Walsh and the Knick organization did a lot of cleaning up with some of the things we'll have to do in order for the coaching staff to be successful."

"Dan is extremely able to get players better," says brother Mike. "Being a high school coach who has developed talent all this life, he brings that ability to the NBA. And the improvement of Chris Duhon and David Lee is very connected to what he's done with them."

D'Antoni, who played at both Gardens III and IV as a player at Marshall University, quickly recognized how the world's greatest basketball city reacted to the Knicks' new, wide-open style.

"They're very knowledgeable," says Dan of the New York fans. "And once they started realizing this team was trying to give them all they had night in and night out...we'd get down, we'd come back, never quit in games. Once that happened, they started rallying around the team and they enjoyed it. We're going to make it better and we're not only going to make a good effort, but a winning effort as we go through these next few years."

Prior to joining the Suns in 2005, D'Antoni accumulated over 500 wins as head coach of Socastee HS in Myrtle Beach, SC, a position he had held for three decades beginning in 1975. Dan is also the founder of the Beach Ball Classic, the prestigious South Carolina high school Christmas basketball tournament that has showcased the likes of Kevin Garnett, Kobe Bryant, Jason Kidd, Vince Carter, Grant Hill, Rasheed Wallace and Raymond Felton. The Classic - which began as an eight-team affair in 1981 - has evolved into a 16-team national competition, with a women's tournament added in 1998.

Dan, 62, was a point guard at Marshall University and as a senior in 1969-70, he served as the head coach of the Thundering Herd's freshman team that included brother Mike. Dan played for Marshall in two National Invitation Tournaments at MSG, at the Old Garden on 49th Street in 1967 and at the current Garden in 1968. He also played at the Old Garden in Marshall's loss to Houston on Feb. 1, 1968, just 12 days after Houston's fabled Astrodome victory over UCLA. He led the Herd with 17.5 scoring average in 1968-69.

D'Antoni graduated from Marshall in 1970 with a degree in Speech and Physical Education, and also earned a Master's degree in Principles of Guidance from Marshall in 1972. In 1970-71, he was as an assistant coach for Marshall's varsity team.

Dan was inducted into the Marshall University Athletics Hall of Fame in 1990 (brother Mike was inducted in 1997). After a tryout stint with the NBA's Baltimore Bullets, D'Antoni returned to coaching full-time at Socastee HS in 1975.

Basketball is a way of life for the D'Antoni family. In addition to brother Mike, father Lewis is a legendary high school basketball coach in West Virginia and Ohio, and was inducted into West Virginia's Sports Hall of Fame in May 2004.

Born in Mullens, WV on Jul. 9, 1947, Dan is the father of three sons, all of whom played collegiate basketball: Matt played at Brown University; Andrew attended West Point Academy and later served 3½ years in Iraq, rising to the rank of captain in the U.S. Army; and Nick attended William and Mary, where he was captain of the basketball team.

Dan and wife Vanessa are also proud parents of daughter Morgan (12). The D'Antoni family resides in the same town as the boyhood home of John Jay, the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Rye, NY.

KENNY ATKINSON
Assistant Coach

Kenny Atkinson brings a strong background in both the international game and player development into his second season on the Knickerbockers' coaching staff. For the Long Island native, his return to New York left a lasting impression.

"It was everything I expected it to be; the fact of being with Mike and being on a great staff," says the 42-year-old Atkinson, who joined the Knicks on Aug. 6, 2008. "I was really encouraged by the players' attitude and working with a good group of guys trying to make the team get better for the future."

Atkinson is in his third overall NBA season. In 2007-08, he served as director of player development for the Houston Rockets, where he was responsible for improving player performance through on-court, one-on-one and small group skill development, along with the use of video analysis.

Now as a Knick, he plays a major role in implementing the free-wheeling Mike D'Antoni-style game plan that New Yorkers so readily adopted last season.

"That surprised me a little bit, because New York is use to the bump-and-grind style of basketball," says Kenny. "I was really surprised how quickly they adjusted to Mike's style. We're going to keep doing it the same way and we think this is a way to bring a championship to New York.

"The way I describe Mike is that he's a basketball intellect. He's got an incredible basketball mind, and as a young coach trying to get better I couldn't imagine being in a better scenario."

"He's a guy who is a great teacher," says D'Antoni. "He's very much into work ethic and being able to connect with players on the court physically. And that's important. Us old guys can't do that, he can. And he loves to work people out and he's getting a lot of guys better."

Raised in Northport, NY, Atkinson joined the Knicks after a decade-and-a-half of playing and coaching overseas.

"This is what everybody dreams of," says Atkinson. "To be working in a great environment with the New York Knicks and you're around your family, I don't think it gets any better than that."

Atkinson's NBA career follows an overseas odyssey in which he became a student of the international game. Kenny joined the Rockets in 2007 following three years as director of player development/assistant coach for the Paris Basket Racing Club in France (2004-06). He spent the summer of 2006 as director of player development/assistant coach for the national team of the Republic of Georgia. He continued his international connection in the summer of 2009, when he participated in the NBA's Basketball Without Borders trip to Mexico City, Aug. 6-9, 2009.

Prior to starting his coaching career in 2004, Atkinson played professionally in Italy, France, Germany and Spain from 1991 to 2004. He had tryouts with several NBA teams, including the Knicks in summer 1991.

"I would say my formation as a coach is more from an international standpoint," says Kenny. "That's where I learned to coach, and there's a big emphasis on skill work and shooting; an up-tempo and open style that's predicated on good skills."

Atkinson enjoyed a standout collegiate career at the University of Richmond, helping to lead the Spiders to an NCAA Sweet 16 appearance with a 9.0 scoring average in 1987-88. As a senior co-captain, he averaged a team-high 18.9 points in 1989-90, and earned All-CAA First Team honors as both a junior and senior.

Born on Jun. 2, 1967 in Huntington, NY, Kenny's extended family still lives on Long Island. He and his wife Laura live in Pleasantville, a village synonymous with extraordinary neighborliness, volunteerism, tranquility and tolerance, with their son Anthony (2).

GREG BRITTENHAM

Assistant Coach, Player Development

For nearly two decades, the off-the-court efforts of Greg Brittenham have played a major role in the Knickerbockers' story. Recognized as one of the NBA's senior and most respected strength and conditioning coaches, Greg is in his 19th season with the Knicks, his 15th as an assistant coach.

The fitness methods and philosophies he helped bring to the NBA have evolved with the times.

"Athleticism is more than just lifting weights in the weight room," says Greg, a member of the staff for both Knicks Eastern Conference Championship teams of the 1990s. "It includes functional core, balance, eye-hand co-ordination and much more. It's no longer about just being in the weight room and seeing how big you can get."

Brittenham, 50, stresses such traits as strength, power, speed, quickness, coordination, agility, corrective therapy and other components in his programs, and also takes a functional approach toward athletic development.

"Players are looking for every advantage they can gain over an opponent," says Brittenham. "I think it was Larry Bird who said that, every time he left the court, he wondered if there's someone out there doing more work than he just did. It's true that a lot of players want to have an impact in this league and they're doing a lot of work to gain an advantage over an opponent, and I'm just here to help facilitate that advantage."

Working in synergy with the other coaches to blend together the players' basketball-specific requirements with conditioning and movement aspects, Greg stresses less time spent on conventional equipment, and more time developing such traits as core stabilization, coordination and body control.

"You have to gain the trust of the individual and once he knows that I only have his best interests at heart, and that I'm not asking him to do anything I wouldn't do myself, that makes it a lot easier," says Greg. "When I first came to the Knicks, I had guys like Patrick Ewing and Charles Oakley, which made my job easy because they had bought into the program and would hold all other players accountable."

"Greg brings a wealth of knowledge from a training standpoint," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni. "He's another guy who's extremely grounded and is a class act."

Greg is the author of two books, Complete Conditioning for Basketball (which has also been issued as a video), and Stronger Abs and Back: Developing Your Center of Power (co-authored with his father, Dean Brittenham), both published by Human Kinetics with worldwide distribution.

"I have known Greg and his father Dean going on 20 years now, all the way back to our days in Indiana together," says Knicks President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh. "He and Dean were both experts in speed development and functional conditioning, and he has taken his expertise to this franchise – the New York Knicks – for the last 19 years."

"I couldn't imagine working with any other team. It's been a great time for me with the Knicks," says Greg.

Prior to joining the Knicks in 1991-92, Greg served for three years as co-director of athletic development for the National Institute for Fitness and Sport in Indianapolis. Brittenham is the holder of an undergraduate degree from the University of Nebraska at Kearney and a Masters degree in Kinesiology, with an emphasis on Motor Development, from Indiana University.

Greg's father Dean, a world-renowned 50-year veteran of the training field, enjoyed a long tenure in the conditioning program at the famed Scripps Clinic in LaJolla, CA. Now semi-retired, Dean Brittenham still trains many world-class athletes from his home base in Colorado.

Born in Bakersfield, CA, Greg lives in The City That Works, Stamford, CT, with his wife Luann and their children Max (22, a Division I pitcher at Maryland's Mount St. Mary's University) and Rachel (18, a basketball player at Wofford College in South Carolina). Greg lists his favorite hobby as spending all of his free time with his family (including backpacking through Alaska in 10 of the last 11 summers), and also volunteers much of his time to working with area high school athletes.

During his Alaska trips, Greg is actively involved with the Fairbanks-based Challenge Life Youth Foundation, working with native Alaskan youth and emphasizing the importance of health and fitness, academic success, drug and alcohol education awareness and community and cultural heritage.

GARDEN of DREAMS

The Garden of Dreams Foundation is a 501c3 non-profit that works closely with all areas of Madison Square Garden, including the New York Knicks, Rangers, Liberty, MSG Media, MSG Entertainment, and Fuse to make dreams come true for kids in crisis.

Since its inception in 2006, the Foundation has created once in a lifetime experiences at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, the MSG Training Center, Fuse and the Beacon Theatre for more than 120,000 tri-state area children in crisis. Over 100,000 tickets have been donated to organizations served by Garden of Dreams and more than 1,000 special events have been designed for children and families.

Last year, Garden of Dreams and the Knicks hosted dozens of events and activities designed to enhance the lives of children suffering from devastating illness, homelessness, abuse, hunger, extreme poverty and tragedy. Together, Garden of Dreams and the Knicks hosted the third annual 'Dream Day' at the MSG Training Center, several pregame celebrations and 'Dream Nights' at Madison Square Garden, player hospital visits and interactive 'Show Kids NY' adventures to NYC landmarks including Madame Tussauds Wax Museum, the ESPN Zone and Planet Hollywood in Times Square. In addition, the Knicks partnered with the Rangers and Liberty to refurbish family visiting centers at a foster care agency in Harlem.

KNICKS POETRY SLAM PROGRAM

A teen poet showcases his talent during the Knicks Poetry Slam Open Audition at Madison Square Garden

The Poetry Slam Program, in conjunction with program partner Urban Word NYC, serves over 10,000 students annually through school site visits, a poetry open audition, a college fair, workshops and poetry slams. In November 2008, more than 1,300 people attended the Knicks Poetry Slam Open Audition and College Fair. Students had the opportunity to enter two contests, written and spoken word poetry. In the written contest category, four high school seniors won full four-year tuition scholarships to college: three to the University of Wisconsin and one to Mercy College. In the spoken word competition, 14 of the top poets from the tri-state area were selected to compete in the final competition. At the final competition in March 2009, more than $350,000 was awarded in scholarships and prizes, including a $25,000 Nike equipment drop. For more information, log on to: WWW.KNICKSPOETRYSLAM.COM.

KNICKS READ TO ACHIEVE @POWERTOLEARN.COM

SUMMER PROGRAM (PRESENTED BY KIA MOTORS)

A literacy program and a partnership between the New York Knicks, KIA Motors and Cablevision's Power to Learn initiative designed to promote reading and literacy in tri-state area libraries during the summer. The program encourages reading throughout the summer so students don't fall behind. Children who completed the program received tickets to attend a Knicks game during the season and one lucky winner got the opportunity to be an honorary ball kid at a Knicks game.

Children from the Read to Achieve program enjoy a special visit from John Starks

WINTER PROGRAM

To help motivate students to read more during the year, the Knicks and Cablevision annually select 100 classes in over 30 schools to receive starter reading kits with interactive videos and online supplements. Classes can also win Knicks Groove Truck visits to their schools with Knicks Alumni appearances.

SWEETWATER CLIFTON CITY SPIRIT AWARD

The Knicks honored U.S. Waterways Captains and Deckhands after their Hudson River rescue of U.S. Airways Flight 1549

Each month, the New York Knicks honor local heroes with the Sweetwater Clifton City Spirit Award. Named after Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton, the first African-American to play for the Knicks, the award recognizes those who have made a significant difference in the lives of others. Winners are honored at center court during a Knicks home game and receive a $2,000 donation to a charity of their choice.

JUNIOR KNICKS LEAGUE

The New York Knicks, Sprite and Foot Locker partnered with the YMCA of Greater New York, New York City Parks & Recreation's 'Millennium Winter Basketball League' and the City Wide Athletic Association to give over 9,000 children, boys & girls ages 7-18, a chance to play organized basketball in league format. The program consists of instruction, skill development, league play, Knicks clinics and trips to Madison Square Garden to attend Knicks games. The League also includes an amazing opportunity to play on the Garden floor and meet Knicks players and legends.

KNICKS SUMMER BASKETBALL CAMP

Nate Robinson takes questions from Gatorade Knicks Summer Basketball Camp participants

The summer of 2008 marked the 17th anniversary of the Gatorade Knicks Summer Basketball Camp, presented by Zipway. Campers had the opportunity to meet several Knicks and NBA players. David Lee, Nate Robinson, Chris Duhon, Wilson Chandler and Quentin Richardson, along with Phoenix Suns star Steve Nash and Chicago Bulls forward Joakim Noah all made appearances. Additionally, former Knicks John Starks, Allan Houston and Herb Williams appeared throughout the summer.

NBA CARES

NBA Cares is the league's global community outreach initiative that addresses important social issues such as education, youth and family development, and health and wellness. The NBA, its teams, and players support a range of programs, partners, and initiatives that strive to positively impact children and families worldwide.

As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities through philanthropy, hands-on service, and legacy projects. Since the program's October 2005 launch, the league, players, and teams have raised more than $110 million for charity, provided more than one million hours of hands-on service, and built more than 425 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play in communities around the world.

NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through special programs like NBA FIT and Basketball without Borders. The league and its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During high-profile league events like NBA All-Star and The Finals, community outreach efforts use the power of sport to effect positive social change.

Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations such as Make-A-Wish, UNICEF, KaBOOM!, Habitat for Humanity, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Hands On Network, Special Olympics, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and the UN Foundation, NBA Cares works to improve communities in need around the world.

NEW YORK KNICKS GROOVE TRUCK

Participants play on the Knicks Groove Truck at the Tarrytown YMCA Family Day

The Knicks Groove Truck, presented by Capital One Bank, creates an opportunity for basketball fans to enjoy the excitement of the Knicks even if they are not able to attend a game or visit Madison Square Garden. The Groove Truck features XBOX 360 video gaming systems, 3 glass backboards, 5 plasma screen TVs, a state-of-the-art sound system and always comes packed with the coolest Knicks giveaway items. During the 2008-09 season, the Knicks Groove Truck made over 200 appearances throughout the tri-state area.

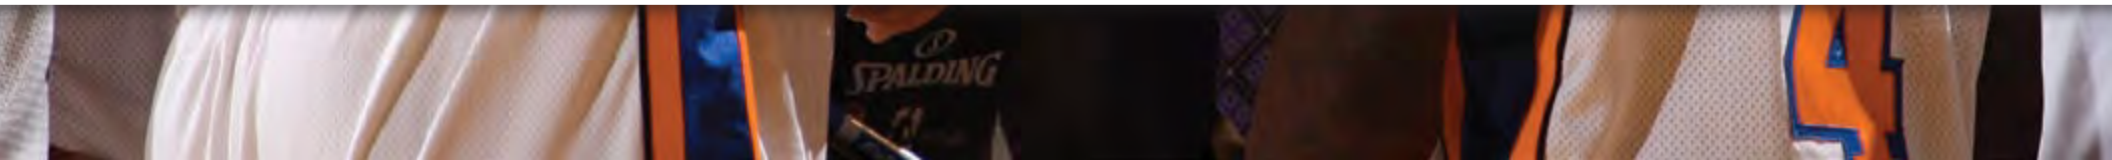
2008-09 IN REVIEW



The New York Knickerbockers: marked their 63rd season as a charter member of the NBA with a 32-50 (.390) regular season mark... Knicks finished fifth in the Atlantic Division, 30 games behind division champion Boston, and failed to qualify for the NBA Playoffs...Knicks finished 14th overall in the 15-team Eastern Conference, and fifth in the Atlantic Division.

The Record (32-50): Knicks' record of 32-50 represented a nine-game improvement in the win column over the previous season (23-59)... Knicks' nine-game jump marked the fifth-best improvement in the NBA, behind Miami (+28), Cleveland (+21), Portland (+13) and Atlanta (+10)...After a 102-94 win at Minnesota on Mar. 13, Knicks were 28-37 after 65 games and just a half-game out of the eighth and final Playoff spot in the Eastern Conference, but they would lose 13 of their remaining 17 games...Knicks were mathematically eliminated from the Eastern Conference Playoff race on Apr. 4 (game No. 76), with a 102-95 loss to Toronto at MSG.

Offense: Knicks responded to the tutelage of Head Coach Mike D'Antoni by ranking fourth in the NBA in scoring (105.2)...Knicks recorded their highest point-per-game total since 1989-90 (108.3) and their highest ranking among NBA teams since 1988-89 (third with 116.7)...Knicks scored 100-plus points in 61 of the season's 82 games (31-30 when scoring 100+)...Knicks were 28th in the NBA with a .445 shooting percentage (8-6 when shooting .500+)...Season-high point total was 138 in 138-125 win over Golden State on Nov. 29, in which Knicks set team MSG IV records for points in a second quarter (43) and first half (82), and recorded their highest point total in a regulation (non-OT) game since Apr. 6, 1996 (139 in 139-106 win at Toronto)...Season low point total was 76 in 96-76 loss at Houston, Jan. 10... Knicks shot season-high .591 (52-88) on Nov. 12 at Memphis; season-low .327 (32-87) on Oct. 31 at Philadelphia...Knicks produced seven double-figure scorers three times (Nov. 25 vs. Cavs, Mar. 25 vs. Clippers and Apr. 5 at Toronto) and were 7-6 when all five starters scored 10+...Knicks recorded 26 consecutive 100+ scoring games, Jan. 19-Mar. 13, their longest 100+ streak since 1988-89 (39 straight)... Seven different Knicks had 30-plus scoring games: Nate Robinson (9), Al Harrington (8), David Lee (2), Quentin Richardson (2), Wilson Chandler (2), Larry Hughes (1) and Jamal Crawford (1)...Knicks had two games with four 20-plus scorers; three games with two 30-plus scorers...After registering just one individual 10-plus assist game in 2007-08 (Robinson), Knicks had 17 double-figure assist games in 2008-09 (Chris Duhon 16, Robinson 1)...On Nov. 29 vs. Warriors, Lee (37 points, 21 rebounds) and Harrington (36 points, 12 rebounds) became Knicks' first pair of 30/10 players since Willis Reed and Walt Bellamy vs. Baltimore, Mar. 15, 1967...On Feb. 11 at Clippers, Harrington (19 points, 11 rebounds), Lee (17-12), Jared Jeffries (16-10) and Robinson (33 points, 15 assists) all authored double-doubles, giving NY four double-double players for first time since Feb. 8, 1993 at Philadelphia (Ewing, Oakley, Mason, Anthony).

Threeeeee-Point Goal: Knicks' prowess from three-point range was the centerpiece of their attack all season long...Knicks went 823-2,284 (.360), falling just short of the NBA mark for three-pointers made while setting a League record for three-point attempts... Knicks ranked 20th in NBA in three-point pct. (.360)...NY's 823 three-pointers led the NBA, shattered the prior franchise record (606 in 2002-03) and were just 14 shy of the NBA single-season mark of 837 set by the Mike D'Antoni-coached Phoenix Suns in 2005-06...NY's 2,284 three-point attempts were a new NBA single-season record, breaking the old mark of 2,185 set by Golden State in 2007-08...Five Knicks recorded 100-plus home run seasons (Al Harrington 160, Chris Duhon 127, Nate Robinson 125, Quentin Richardson 120, Wilson Chandler 103), with Harrington recording the fifth-best single-season home run mark in club annals...Knicks set single-game team records for both three-pointers made (19 at Memphis, Nov. 12) and attempted (39 vs. Toronto, Feb. 20)...Knicks recorded six games with at least 15 three-pointers...Knicks connected from Downtown in each of their 82 games, and have recorded at least one three-pointer in each of their last 258 regular season games (0-6 vs. Boston, Mar. 29, 2006)...Richardson went 7-13 from Downtown on Nov. 22 vs. Wizards, setting team individual season highs for three-pointers made and attempted...Knicks recorded eight four-point plays during the season (Jamal Crawford 2, Robinson 2, Tim Thomas 2, Chandler and Duhon one each).

Mike: After leading the Phoenix Suns to four straight 50-plus win seasons and three Pacific Division Championships, Mike D'Antoni went 32-50 in his first season as the 24th head coach in Knicks franchise history...The 2005 NBA Coach of the Year, D'Antoni guided the Knicks to a nine-game jump in the win column and installed what turned out to be the fourth highest-scoring offense in the NBA (105.2).

At Home (20-21): Knicks' 20 wins at home marked a five-game improvement over 2007-08 and highest home win total since 2004-05 (22-19)...Fourth consecutive sub-.500 season at home....Longest home winning streak was five (Jan. 19-28 over Chicago, Phoenix, Memphis, Houston and Atlanta).

On The Road (12-29): Knicks' 12 road wins were four more than in 2007-08 (8-33) and marked second double-figure road win season in the last four years...Longest road winning streak was three (Mar. 10-15 at Milwaukee, Detroit and Minnesota); first three-game road winning streak since Apr. 10-16, 2005 (at Indiana, Cleveland and Charlotte)...Knicks snapped a nine-game losing streak at Toronto with 112-103 win on Apr. 5 (first win at Toronto since Mar. 5, 2004; 109-103)...Longest road losing streak was six, twice (Nov. 18-Dec. 9 and Feb. 8-Mar. 8).

W/L Streaks/Months: Knicks' longest winning streak was three games, four times...Longest losing streak was six games, three times... Knicks were 8-8 in October/November 4-10 in December, 9-7 in January, 3-10 in February, 5-11 in March and 3-4 in April...Knicks' 9-7 January was their winningest month since December 2004 (9-7), and first winning month since February 2007 (6-5).

East/West: Knicks went 20-32 against the Eastern Conference; 12-18 against the West...Most wins vs. West (12) since 2004-05 (12-18), after NY had gone 14-46 against the West over the prior two seasons...Knicks swept season series against Memphis (2-0) and New Orleans (2-0; first season sweep of Hornets since 1991-92; 4-0)...Were swept by Cleveland (0-4), Dallas (0-2), Denver (0-2), Clippers (0-2, both in OT), Lakers (0-2), Philadelphia (0-4; first sweep by Sixers since 1985-86, 0-6) and Portland (0-2).

Back-To-Backs: Knicks played 18 sets of back-to-back games in 2008-09, their fewest since they played 17 sets in 2005-06...They were 3-15 in the first games of back-to-backs, 6-12 in the second (total game record of 9-27)...Knicks swept one set of back-to-back games (Mar. 10-11 at Milwaukee-Detroit), were swept in 10 sets, split seven sets.

Wire-To-Wire: Knicks had three wire-to-wire wins (never trailed) in 2008-09: Dec. 7 vs. Detroit (104-92), Dec. 13 at Sacramento (114-90) and Feb. 20 vs. Toronto (127-97)...Dec. 7 win over Pistons was NY's first wire-to-wire win since Jan. 10, 2007 vs. Philadelphia (106-99), a span of 146 games...Knicks had seven wire-to-wire losses (never led).

Comebacks: Six of the Knicks' 32 wins came in games in which they trailed by double-figure points...Biggest comeback was from 15 points down (7-22) to beat Memphis at MSG, 108-88 on Jan. 23...NY squandered a double-figure lead in 10 of their 50 losses...Biggest blown lead in loss was in 140-135 OT loss to Clippers, Mar. 25, in which NY led by as many as 19 points (40-21).

Overtime: Knicks were 2-3 in overtime...OT wins came on Feb. 17 vs. San Antonio (112-107) and Mar. 11 at Detroit (116-111)...OT losses came on Nov. 16 at Dallas (114-124), Feb. 11 at Clippers (124-128) and Mar. 25 vs. Clippers (135-140)...Knicks did not play a multiple-OT game in 2008-09.

2008-09 SEASON IN REVIEW

SEASON IN REVIEW

From The Line: Knicks ranked 10th in the NBA in free throw shooting (.784 on 1,490-1,900)...Highest percentage since 2003-04 (.793); after NY had shot .715 and .727 from the stripe in the prior two seasons...Knicks recorded four individual streaks of at least 20-plus consecutive makes, including Duhon's club record 44 straight from Nov. 29-Dec. 21, breaking Latrell Sprewell's mark of 41 straight in 2001-02... Lee (24, Feb. 2-10), Robinson (24, Dec. 19-Jan. 2) and Danilo Gallinari (21, Oct. 31-Feb. 28, first 21 attempts of season) also had 20-plus made streaks.

On The Leader Board: David Lee led the NBA with 65 double-doubles, edging out Orlando's Dwight Howard (63). According to the Elias Sports Bureau, he became the first Knick to lead the NBA in double-doubles since Patrick Ewing in 1996-97 (47)...David also ranked third in NBA in rebounding (11.7), seventh in field goal percentage (.549), and fifth in offensive rebounds (256)...Nate Robinson averaged 16.5 points in 63 games off the bench, finishing second in NBA in bench scoring to Dallas' Jason Terry (19.6)...Wilson Chandler ranked fifth in scoring among second-year players (14.4) and sixth among sophomores in rebounding (5.4). Wil increased his scoring average by 7.1 (from 7.3-14.4), tying Philadelphia's Thaddeus Young for the highest increase among all NBA players...Al Harrington was 20th in NBA in scoring (20.1) and seventh in three-pointers (171). Al's 6.5 scoring increase in scoring average (13.6-20.1) was third-best in the League...Chris Duhon was 10th in the NBA in assists (7.2) and also notched NBA season-high (and team record) 22 assists vs. Golden State on Nov. 29.

New Faces Of '09: During the course of the season, President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh made a series of significant trades that not only altered the current face of the team but were also geared toward allowing the Knicks room under the NBA Salary Cap (in 2010) for the first time in more than a decade...On Nov. 21, Al Harrington was acquired from Golden State for Jamal Crawford, while Tim Thomas and Cuttino Mobley were acquired from L.A. Clippers for Zach Randolph and Mardy Collins...Mobley was forced to announce retirement, Dec. 11, after medical evaluations revealed hypertrophic cardiomyopathy...Then, at the NBA trading deadline of Feb. 19, Knicks acquired Larry Hughes from Chicago for Jerome James, Anthony Roberson and Tim Thomas; and Chris Wilcox from Oklahoma City for Malik Rose and cash considerations.

Hello, My Name Is...: In aftermath of roster shuffle, a club record total of 23 players saw action for the Knicks in 2008-09, breaking the old mark of 22 set in 2003-04...Al Harrington, Larry Hughes, Chris Duhon, Chris Wilcox, Danilo Gallinari, Anthony Roberson, Joe Crawford, Courtney Sims, Mouhamed Sene, Demetris Nichols and Cheikh Samb all made their Knicks debuts in 2008-09...In addition, Stephon Marbury, Cuttino Mobley and Chris Hunter were all on the roster during the season without seeing game action...At season's end, Eddy Curry, Quentin Richardson, David Lee and Nate Robinson all shared the honor of Senior Knick, as all four completed their fourth full seasons with NY...Over the past six seasons, a total of 61 players have seen action in at least one regular season game for the Knicks.

Lineups: D'Antoni used 16 different starting lineups over the course of the season...Starting lineup total was lowest since 2004-05 (8), after Knicks had used NBA record 42 starting lineups in 2005-06, 20 in 2006-07 and 31 in 2007-08...Most-used lineups (14 games each) were Duhon-Richardson-Jeffries-Chandler-Lee (Knicks 7-7) and Duhon-Richardson-Lee-Chandler-Harrington (Knicks 3-11)...Duhon (78) led Knicks in starts.

Off The Bench: Knicks' explosiveness off the bench was a vital part of their attack all season long...Knicks averaged 33.5 points (2,745) off the bench in 2008-09, up from 28.3 in 2007-08...Robinson averaged 16.5 points off the bench (second in NBA), while Harrington notched 17.8 points in limited action (17 games) off the bench...Robinson's 41 points vs. Indiana on Feb. 23 tied Bob McAdoo's 1978 single-game club record for points off the bench...Knicks recorded 30 individual 20-plus scoring games off the bench, with 20 for Robinson, six for Harrington, two for Tim Thomas and one each for Chandler and Hughes.

Stars Shine In Phoenix: Nate Robinson won his second Sprite Slam Dunk contest by outdueling Orlando's Dwight Howard at NBA All-Star Weekend in Phoenix, Feb. 14...Nate earned a 52-48-percent victory margin in the final round fan vote and recorded his second career Slam Dunk win (2006 at Houston)...Nate joined Michael Jordan, Dominique Wilkins, Harold Miner and Jason Richardson as two-time Slam Dunk Champions... Wilson Chandler scored six points with team-high seven rebounds for victorious Sophomore squad in T-Mobile Rookie Challenge...Knicks legends Richie Guerin (third straight year by Veterans' Committee) and Bernard King and former coach Don Nelson were nominated for induction with the Class of 2009 by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame (none elected in final vote announced Apr. 6).

Those Were The Weeks That Were: Al Harrington and David Lee were both honored as Eastern Conference Player of the Week... Harrington took the honors for the period ending Dec. 14, averaging 33.3 points and 8.3 rebounds with 35-62 FGA (.565), leading Knicks to 2-1 week...Lee was honored for the period ending Feb. 1, recording 19.0 points and 15.3 rebounds with 23-43 FGA (.535) and double-doubles in all three games as Knicks went 3-0...First time Knicks had two POTW winners since 2003-04 (Mutombo, Marbury).

Off The Boards: Knicks ranked eighth in the NBA in rebounds per game (42.1), with David Lee (11.7) finishing third in the League in boards...Lee had 65 10-plus rebound games, led Knicks in boards 65 times, and notched two games with 21 boards (Nov. 29 vs. Warriors, Jan. 16 at Washington) for a Knicks individual season high...Seven different Knicks had 10-plus rebound games: Lee (65), Harrington (9), Randolph (8), Chandler (3), Robinson (3), Jeffries (2), Richardson (1).

Margins: Knicks were 1-4 in games decided by three points or less, 10-15 in games decided by five points or less, 12-20 in games decided by 10 points or more, and 5-7 in games decided by 20 points or more...Season's biggest winning margin was 30 points on Feb. 20 vs. Toronto (127-97), NY's biggest winning margin since Dec. 2, 2002 vs. Cleveland (32 points, 125-93)...Biggest losing margin was 36 points on Dec. 3 at Cleveland (82-118)...Knicks held a 20-plus point lead in nine games and won all nine (biggest lead was 38 points, 98-60, on Feb. 20 vs. Toronto)...Knicks faced a 20-plus point deficit in 18 games and lost all 18 (biggest deficit was 42 points, 72-114, on Dec. 3 at Cleveland)...Knicks were 0-2 in games decided in the last 10 seconds (Jan. 2 vs. Indiana, lost 103-105 on Jarrett Jack's jumper with :00.9 left; Feb. 8 at Portland, lost 108-109 on Brandon Roy's layup at the buzzer).

Injuries: Knicks recorded 243 manpower games lost due to injury, second-highest figure in NBA to Washington's 309...Games-missed total was Knicks' highest since 2002-03 (268)...Wilson Chandler was only Knick to appear in all 82 games...Eddy Curry (63 games, knee pain), Danilo Gallinari (45 games, back) and Jared Jeffries (23 games, fibula/leg) all missed significant time...Knicks used the Inactive List 216 times.

Attendance: Knicks ranked seventh in the NBA in average home attendance (41 dates, 19,288 average, 23 sellouts) for the 2008-09 regular season...With a total attendance figure of 790,801, Knicks played to 97.6-percent capacity at MSG...Knicks' 23 home sellouts marked their highest home sellout total since 2005-06 (24)...Average and total home attendance figures (790,801; 19,288) were Knicks' highest since 2004-05 (800,144; 19,516)...Knicks averaged better than 19,000 in home attendance for the 15th time in the last 17 seasons.

With Pride We Honor: On Mar. 23, the first class of Knicks Legends was honored at MSG as Knicks faced Orlando...Carl Braun, Richie Guerin, Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Bernard King and Patrick Ewing were the initial class of Knicks Legends Award winners from each decade from the 1940s through the 1990s, with the inaugural Dick McGuire Knicks Legacy Award awarded to its namesake, who celebrated his 52nd season with the Knicks in 2008-09.

October-November (8-8)

Oct. 29 vs. Miami (W, 120-115): Knicks open their 63rd season as a charter member of the NBA with resounding 120-115 Garden win over Miami in Mike D'Antoni's debut as Knicks head coach…Jamal Crawford scores a game-high 29 points; Dwyane Wade leads Heat with 26…Knicks lead by as many as 23; Miami cuts lead to three in final minute but gets no closer…Chris Duhon (9 points, 38 minutes) and Danilo Gallinari (scoreless in four minutes) make Knicks debuts…Point total (120) is Knicks' highest in a season opener since 120-107 win over Boston on Nov. 4, 1994…Knicks improve to 37-26 all-time on Opening Night, winning season opener for just second time in last seven years.

Oct. 31 at Philadelphia (L, 87-116): Knicks shoot season-low .327 (32-98) in wire-to-wire, 116-87 loss at Philadelphia in road opener…Elton Brand (24 points, 14 rebounds) and Andre Miller (20 points) lead Sixers, who shoot blistering .591 (52-88)…Anthony Roberson (2 points, 8 minutes) makes Knicks debut.

Nov. 2 vs. Milwaukee (L, 86-94): Richard Jefferson and Ramon Sessions each score 18 points as all five Bucks starters score in double figures in 94-86 loss to Milwaukee at MSG…Quentin Richardson goes 5-11 from Downtown (game-high 28 points), but Crawford is held to just one point (0-6 FGA, 31 minutes).

Nov. 5 vs. Charlotte (W, 101-98): Knicks get standout performances from Nate Robinson early (19 points in second quarter, 24 overall, 5-5 from Downtown) and Zach Randolph late (13 points in fourth quarter, 25 overall) in 101-98 win over Bobcats at MSG, overcoming 21 turnovers…Knicks see nine-point fourth quarter lead melt down to one in final seconds, then come up winners when Jason Richardson's three-pointer misses at the buzzer.

Nov. 7 at Washington (W, 114-108): Crawford scores 23 points while Randolph adds 22 as Knicks overcome Caron Butler's 30 points in 114-108 win at Washington…Duhon dishes off 12 assists with no turnovers…Knicks shoot .511 (46-90), including 13-32 from Downtown…Butler's layup gives Wizards a one-point lead (103-102) with 4:57 left, but Duhon's three-pointer ignites game-clinching 12-5 run over the final 4:40.

Nov. 9 vs. Utah (W, 107-99): Crawford pours in 32 points while Randolph adds 25 in 107-99 win over Jazz, Knicks' third straight win overall and fifth straight triumph over Utah at MSG…Carlos Boozer (19 points, 18 rebounds) paces Jazz, who absorb first loss of season (5-1)…Knicks go 24-29 FTA (.828) and turn 22 Jazz turnovers into 30 points…Jazz play without Deron Williams (ankle), Matt Harpring (ankle) and Jarron Collins (triceps).

Nov. 11 at San Antonio (L, 80-92): Tim Duncan scores 23 points to lead shorthanded Spurs past Knicks, 92-80, at San Antonio; Knicks' seventh straight loss to Spurs and sixth straight defeat at San Antonio…Crawford (28 points, 6-8 from Downtown) leads Knicks…Spurs shoot just .364 in the first half (16-44), .541 in the second (20-37), bridging third-fourth quarters with 14-0 run…Spurs play without Tony Parker (ankle) and Manu Ginobili (ankle).

Nov. 12 at Memphis (W, 132-103): Knicks bury Grizzlies under a team-record avalanche of 19 three-pointers in 132-103 rout at Memphis… Knicks go 19-34 from Downtown, setting new club mark for three-pointers…Seven different Knicks connect from Downtown…Wilson Chandler scores 27 points on 11-12 FGA and 4-4 from Downtown…Robinson scores 21 on a perfect night from the field (8-8 FGA, 5-5 from Downtown)…NY shoots season-high .591 overall (52-88) and leads by as many as 32…Rudy Gay leads Grizz with 20 points.

Nov. 14 vs. Oklahoma City (W, 116-106): Crawford and Randolph each score 29 and Zach adds 19 rebounds in 116-106 win over Oklahoma City Thunder, in OKC's first Garden visit since their move from Seattle…Kevin Durant leads Thunder with 23 points…Knicks shoot .542 (26-48) in first half and lead by 24 at halftime (68-44)…Randolph's layup+FTM extend lead to 30 (84-54) with 8:10 left in the third…Then Thunder go on a 41-18 run over the next 14:46 to pull within seven (102-95) with 5:14 left. But NY answers with game-clinching 10-5 push to cap 6-3 season start.

Nov. 16 vs. Dallas (L, 114-124, OT): Dirk Nowitzki pours in 39 points with 15 rebounds while Josh Howard adds 31 and 14 to lead Mavericks to comeback 124-114 OT win at MSG, Knicks' sixth straight loss to Mavs…Randolph (27 points, 18 rebounds) leads NY…Knicks lead by as many as 15 in second quarter (50-35) and nine in the fourth (105-96)…Richardson's layup gives NY seven-point lead (112-105) with 2:26 left, but that was to be Knicks' last field goal of the night; Dallas bridges fourth quarter and OT with 15 straight points to decide the issue…Jason Terry's jumper with :38.9 left sends game into OT (112-112), then Nowitzki scores seven points in the extra stanza as Mavs outscore Knicks 12-2…Knicks miss their last 14 shots, and tie post-clock team low with just two points in OT…Knicks go 13-16 FTA (.813) while Mavs go 23-31 FTA (.742).

Nov. 18 at Boston (L, 101-110): Paul Pierce scores 22 points to lead shorthanded Celtics over Knicks, 110-101 at Boston, NY's seventh straight loss to defending NBA Champs…Celtics, who shoot .532 (42-79), play without Kevin Garnett (NBA suspension)…Crawford (3 points), Randolph (18 points, 8 rebounds) and Mardy Collins (4 points, 2 assists) play their final games with NY.

Nov. 21: Prior to that night's game at Milwaukee, President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh pulls off two major trades…F Al Harrington acquired from Golden State for Jamal Crawford…F Tim Thomas and G Cuttino Mobley acquired from L.A. Clippers for Zach Randolph and Mardy Collins…They Said It: "It goes back to what I said at my first press conference. I thought we needed to be competitive for two years, then have cap flexibility after. I thought we accomplished both goals. The players we're bringing in will be able to play Mike's style and they're all good players." – Donnie Walsh

Nov. 21 at Milwaukee (L, 87-104): Shorthanded Knicks are blitzed in Milwaukee, 104-87, following team-shaking day of trades…Charlie Villanueva leads Bucks with 20 points while Andrew Bogut adds 14 points and 17 rebounds…Duhon leads NY with 20 points…In aftermath of trades, Knicks dress minimum eight players and play just seven.

Nov. 22 vs. Washington (W, 122-117): Richardson (34 points, 7-13 from Downtown) leads the way as NY's starters combine for 116 points in 122-117 win over Wizards at MSG, snapping three-game losing streak…Robinson (27), Chandler (23), Lee (22) and Duhon (10) join Richardson in starters' scoring parade…Q-Rich ties team record with six three-pointers in one quarter (first); Knicks go 16-36 from Downtown…Antavn Jamison (29 points) leads Wiz…For second straight game, Knicks dress eight players and play seven…Wizards fall to 1-10 in final game for Head Coach Eddie Jordan, who is replaced by former Knicks executive Ed Tapscott two days later.

Nov. 25 vs. Cleveland (L, 101-119): Thomas (16 points, 4-8 from Downtown) returns to NY while Harrington (13 points, 9 rebounds) makes Knicks debut in wire-to-wire 119-101 loss to Cavs at MSG…LeBron James paces Cavs with 26 points…Robinson suffers strained right groin in first half, forcing him to miss seven of the next eight games.

Nov. 26 at Detroit (L, 96-110): Richard Hamilton (17) leads eight Pistons double-figure scorers in 110-96 loss at Detroit, Knicks' second straight wire-to-wire defeat…Harrington scores game-high 25 points in second game with NY…Knicks trail by as many as 24 in losing for the 11th time in their last 12 games at The Palace…Chandler ejected in third quarter by referee Dick Bavetta after punching the ball into the stands.

Nov. 29 vs. Golden State (W, 138-125): Rousing 138-125 MSG win over Warriors is truly one for the record books…Duhon dishes off 22 assists to smash Richie Guerin's 50-year old single-game club record…Lee (career highs 37 points, 21 rebounds) becomes first Knick to author a 30-20 game since Patrick Ewing (Feb. 23, 1997 at Lakers; 34 points, 25 rebounds, 2OT)…Knicks set team MSG IV records for points in a second quarter (43) and first half (82)…NY's 138 points mark their highest total in a regulation (non-OT) game since Apr. 6, 1996 (139 in 139-106 win at Toronto) and represents team season high…In first game against his former mates, Harrington pours in 36 points with 12 rebounds (he and Lee become Knicks' first pair of 30-10 players in same game since Willis Reed and Walt Bellamy vs. Baltimore, Mar. 15, 1967)…Warriors' Jamal Crawford scores 21 in return to MSG…Marbury sits out one-game team suspension.

"The guys have heart. They have been doing everything I have asked, even more. Like I said, I think a lot of times they want to come together. They want to play together. They want to be a winning team." – Mike D'Antoni, Nov. 22

(Knicks finish October-November at 8-8; fourth in Atlantic, 7 GB)

December (4-10; 12-18)

Dec. 2 vs. Portland (L, 97-104): Brandon Roy has a game-high 23 points while Rudy Fernandez scores 12 of his 18 points in the fourth quarter as Blazers rally for 104-97 win, Knicks' third straight loss to Portland at MSG…Duhon (23 points, 13 assists) leads NY…Blazers outrebound Knicks 54-36 and seize control with 14-0 run to bridge third-fourth quarters.

Dec. 3 at Cleveland (L, 82-118): LeBron James scores 21 points despite sitting out the fourth quarter as Cavs lead by as many as 42 points in 118-82 blitzing of Knicks at Cleveland (biggest losing margin of season; 36 points)…Cavs shoot .506 (43-85) while Knicks shoot just .386 (32-83)…Frustrating night personified as Richardson (two techs) is ejected in second quarter by referee Sean Corbin and Harrington commits flagrant foul on James in the third.

Dec. 5 at Atlanta (L, 95-98): Harrington scores a game-high 27 points, but misses on a potential game-tying three-pointer at the buzzer of 98-95 loss at Atlanta…Marvin Williams (18 points) leads seven double-figure Hawk scorers…Jared Jeffries (6 points, 7 rebounds, 16 min) makes season debut following leg injury…NY goes just 6-6 FTA (two more than all-time team low FTA), as Lee and Duhon (both 3-3 FTA) are only Knicks to go to the line.

Dec. 7 vs. Detroit (W, 104-92): Duhon scores 25 points, Richardson adds 23 and Lee hauls in 19 rebounds as Knicks notch their first wire-to-wire win in nearly two years with 104-92 win over Pistons at sold-out MSG…Knicks starters combine for 95 of NY's 104 points…Tayshaun Prince (23 points, 10 rebounds) leads Pistons, but Rip Hamilton is ejected (two techs) from his second straight game at MSG (also Mar. 7, 2008)…Knicks lead by as many as 29 (58-29, 2nd quarter), see lead melt down to five (91-86) inside the 4:00 mark, then close out game with 13-6 run over final 3:38…It's NY's first wire-to-wire win since Jan. 10, 2007 vs. Sixers (106-99), a span of 146 games.

Dec. 9 at Chicago (L, 100-105): Drew Gooden scores 22 points with 16 boards to lead Bulls to 105-100 win over NY at Chicago…Harrington scores 28, while Duhon just misses a triple-double in return to Chicago (15 points, 14 assists, 9 rebounds)…Knicks hold five-point lead (92-87) midway thru the fourth, but Bulls close out game with 18-8 run over the final 5:57. Future Knick Larry Hughes' three-point bomb with :55.3 left breaks a 97-97 tie and puts Chicago ahead to stay.

Dec. 10 at New Jersey (W, 121-109): Harrington (39 points, 13 rebounds), Thomas (26 points off the bench) and Chandler (24 points) lead second half-comeback in 121-109 win at New Jersey…Knicks trail by 15 in second quarter (43-28) and by six at the half (63-57), then outscore Nets 64-46 in the second half…Devin Harris (32 points) leads Nets…Knicks shoot blistering .914 from the line (32-35).

Dec. 13 at Sacramento (W, 114-90): Knicks shoot white-hot .750 (18-24) in the opening stanza en route to taking a 43-21 lead after the first quarter at Sacramento, never looking back in wire-to-wire 114-90 rout of Kings, just their second win in their last 12 games at ARCO Arena…Harrington pours in 33 points to cap a three-game span which earns him Eastern Conference Player of the Week honors…Lee adds 17 points and 19 rebounds…Robinson (19 points) returns after missing seven of the prior eight games (groin).

Dec. 15 at Phoenix (L, 103-111): Mike D'Antoni returns to the Valley of the Sun and receives prolonged ovation from US Airways Center crowd prior to Suns' 111-103 win over Knicks, NY's sixth straight loss at Phoenix…Robinson scores 27 off the bench…Shaquille O'Neal (23 points, 12 rebounds, 11-18 FTA) leads Suns…Trailing by as many as 17, Knicks climb within three (100-97) before Suns go on 11-6 run over final 3:41, capped by Steve Nash's game-clinching three-pointer with :28.2 left which produces final margin…Knicks go just 5-37 from Downtown (Robinson 1-10)…They Said It: "I was proud to be a Suns player and a Phoenician, to hear the response Mike got. I thought it was a classy response after a little bit of controversy in his exit. People really needed to brush that aside and really look at what he contributed to this city and franchise and how much fun we've had over the last four years; so I thought it was very deserved and very classy on the part of the Phoenix fans." Steve Nash

Dec. 16 at Lakers (L, 114-116): Leading by 15 points at halftime (65-50), Knicks are outscored 66-49 in the second half and drop 116-114 heartbreaker to Lakers at STAPLES Center…Robinson pours in 33 points in 33 bench minutes; Kobe Bryant leads Lakers with 28…Knicks shoot .511 in the first half (23-45 FGA, 11-23 from Downtown), but just .389 in the second (14-36 FGA, 2-8 from Downtown)…Lakers shoot just .365 (19-52) in first half, .605 (26-43) in second…Robinson's three-pointer gives NY a one-point lead (112-111) with 1:18 left…Trevor Ariza's alley-oop layup from Lamar Odom puts LA ahead to stay (113-112, 1:03 left), then Knicks' final hopes are dashed when Duhon's half-court heave just misses at the buzzer…NY plays seven players and only Chandler (8) fails to score in double figures, as Knicks just miss having each of their participating players score in double figures for the first time in recorded history (source: Harvey Pollack stat book).

Dec. 19 vs. Milwaukee (L, 81-105): Knicks return from 1-2 Western trip and are routed by Milwaukee, 105-81 at MSG…Bucks outscore Knicks 24-15 in first quarter and lead by as many as 25…Michael Redd leads Bucks with 21 points…Robinson scores 21 to lead Knicks, who shoot just .387 (29-75)…Bucks turn 23 Knicks turnovers into 30 points.

Dec. 21 at Boston (L, 105-124): Celtics shoot a staggering .658 (50-76), the second-highest-shooting game by a Knicks opponent in NY's recorded history, in racking up their 18th straight win in eventual 19-game winning streak, a wire-to-wire 124-105 decision over Knicks at Boston…Knicks absorb eighth straight loss to Celts…Rajon Rondo (26 points on 12-14 FGA) leads Celtics…Richardson scores game-high 29 points for Knicks while Duhon sees his free-throw streak end at a club record 44 straight…Celtics' .658 shooting is topped only by one other Knicks opponent in NY's history: Lakers on Jan. 23, 1979, with .685 shooting (63-92) vs. NY.

Dec. 26 vs. Minnesota (L, 107-120): Rashad McCants goes 7-9 from Downtown en route to 23 points while Sebastian Telfair adds 20 points and eight assists on his hometown floor as Knicks fall to 4-23 Timberwolves, 120-107, at MSG for fifth straight loss…Wolves go 13-24 overall from Downtown in recording their highest point total ever vs. NYK; Wolves also snap 13-game losing streak and give Head Coach Kevin McHale his first win after eight losses since taking reins on Dec. 8…Harrington and Robinson lead NY with 26 points each.

Dec. 28 vs. Denver (L, 110-117): Carmelo Anthony scores 11 of his game-high 32 points in the fourth quarter as a 24-13 Denver run over final 8:33 enables Nuggets to hand Knicks sixth straight loss, 117-110 at MSG…Nuggets shoot .570 (45-79)…Knicks go just 5-18 FGA (.278) in the fourth quarter, missing on their final eight shots…They Said It: "We have to play defense, there is no doubt about it. I know I joke around a lot about it but the only way we are going to win is to get better. We are going to score no matter what. So now we have to find a way to stop people." - Mike D'Antoni

Dec. 30 at Charlotte (W, 93-89): Chandler scores seven of his team-high 19 points in the fourth quarter as Knicks blunt Bobcat rally and snap six-game losing streak with 93-89 win at Charlotte…Gerald Wallace scores game-high 21 points for 'Cats…Knicks lead by as many as 17 (32-15, first quarter) and by 10 midway through the fourth (80-70)…Bobcats go on a 13-2 run, capped by Raymond Felton's three-point bomb that gives Charlotte its first – and only – lead (83-82, 4:05 left)…Knicks respond with 11-6 closing run as Bobcats go 1-7 FGA in game's final minute…Knicks turn 19 Charlotte turnovers into 26 points and hold Bobcats to .372 shooting (16-43 FGA) in second half.

"I'm optimistic and happy to a certain point. I thought we played very well in some games that we did lose. I thought we didn't come out with energy maybe one or two times all year and one happened to be (against) Milwaukee. Overall, we're okay, but we need to make the playoffs. We need to understand what it's going to take and have a little bit more dedication." – Mike D'Antoni, Dec. 22

"We've got to stop accepting moral victories. They don't mean anything." – Chris Duhon, Dec. 22

(Knicks finish December at 12-18; fourth in Atlantic, 14½ GB)

January (9-7; 21-25)

Jan. 2 vs. Indiana (L, 103-105): Jarrett Jack nails a 19-foot jumper with just :00.9 left to cap a 29-point night and lift Pacers to 105-103 win; Knicks' fourth straight loss to Pacers at MSG…Harrington scores 27 off the bench against his old Pacers mates…Knicks trail the entire way until a 10-0 fourth quarter run gives them a five-point lead (98-93) with under 3:00 left…But Pacers end game on a 12-5 push capped by Jack's game-winning jumper (Jarrett scores each of Pacers' last six points, 10 in fourth quarter)…Robinson's potential game-winning three-pointer misses at the buzzer.

Jan. 4 vs. Boston (W, 100-88): Chandler (31 points) and Harrington (30 off the bench) lead the way in stunning 100-88 win over defending champion Celtics before roaring MSG sellout…Knicks snap eight-game losing streak vs. Celtics (first win over Boston since Nov. 24, 2006; 101-77 at Boston)…Paul Pierce (31) and Ray Allen (16) are Celts' only double-figure scorers as Knicks hold Boston to .405 shooting (32-79)…Kevin Garnett held to six points (1-6 FGA), and suffers bruised right calf…Knicks outscore Celtics 28-15 in third quarter and decide the issue with game-ending 9-2 run after Celts pulled within five…They Said It: "I think that Boston knows that every time they line up against us from now on that they're at least going to get a fight out of us." - David Lee…"We have been in a lot of close games but we haven't finished them. Tonight, we finished it." - Mike D'Antoni

Jan. 6 at Oklahoma City (L, 99-107): Comeback from 23 points down falls just short in 107-99 loss at Oklahoma City, opening four-game road trip…Harrington scores 21 points off the bench; Jeff Green and Kevin Durant (27 points each) lead Thunder, who notch just their fifth win in 35 games…Trailing by 23 (79-56) midway through the third quarter, Knicks go on a 35-14 run over the next 10 minutes and close to within two (93-91) on Chandler's two free throws with 8:21 left. Thunder answers with 14-8 closing run.

Jan. 8 at Dallas (L, 94-99): Josh Howard scores 19 points and Jason Kidd adds 16 as Mavericks drop Knicks to 0-2 on trip with 99-94 loss at Dallas…Knicks lose their ninth straight game at Dallas, as Mavs sweep season series vs. Knicks (0-2) for sixth time in last seven seasons…Duhon scores game-high 24 points (22 in first half)…Eddy Curry (2 points, 2 rebounds, 3 minutes) makes season debut after missing first 33 games (knee)…Knicks hold Dirk Nowitzki to 10 points on 3-13 FGA…Dallas bridges third-fourth quarters with 13-0 run, holding Knicks scoreless for 5:28; but Thomas' three-point bomb with 6:21 left gives NY an 86-85 lead. Mavs respond with 14-8 game-closing run.

Jan. 10 at Houston (L, 76-96): Knicks shoot just .268 (11-41) in the second half and are outscored 50-31 over final 24 minutes of 96-76 loss at Houston, their eighth straight loss to Rockets…Lee (14) is only NY starter to score in double figures, as Knicks shoot just .354 (29-82) and record season low points…Yao Ming (14 points, 7 rebounds) and Luis Scola (18 points, 11 rebounds) lead shorthanded Rockets, who play without Tracy McGrady (knee) and Ron Artest (ankle).

KNICKERBOCKERS HIGHLIGHTS

January 12 - February 4

Jan. 12 at New Orleans (W, 101-95): Lee scores a team-high 24 points while Harrington adds an off-the-bench double-double (20 points, 10 rebounds) as Knicks salvage final game of 1-3 trip with 101-95 win at New Orleans, snapping seven-game losing streak to Hornets (first win over Hornets since Dec. 8, 2004; 86-79)…David West (25 points, 14 rebounds) and Chris Paul (23 points) lead Hornets, but Knicks hold Bugs to .384 shooting (33-86)…Knicks collect 30 assists on their 39 field goals and commit just eight turnovers.

Jan. 14 vs. Washington (W, 128-122): Lee pours in 30 points and Harrington scores 27 off the bench in 128-122 win over Washington at MSG…Richardson (26 points) goes 6-7 from Downtown; Knicks go 14-26 (.538) overall from long range…Nick Young scores game-high 33 off the bench for Wiz, who shoot .597 (46-77)…Knicks have more offensive rebounds than defensive (19-14), and their 14 defensive boards are just one more than all-time team low.

Jan. 16 at Washington (L, 89-96): Improbable, last-ditch Wizards rally leads to gut-wrenching 96-89 loss at Washington…Knicks lead by nine (83-74) after Robinson's three-pointer with 8:07 left; Wizards end game on 22-6 run over the final 7:44 — including 15 straight points - as Knicks miss nine of their last 10 shots…Antawn Jamison (28 points) and Mike James (19 points, 5-7 3PT) lead Wiz…Lee ties career high with team season-high 21 boards.

Jan. 17 vs. Philadelphia (L, 97-107): Andre Iguodala (28 points) and Andre Miller (27) lead the way as Sixers outlast Knicks in second half and hand NY 107-97 loss at MSG…Harrington leads NY with 26 points (17 in fourth quarter)…Knicks lead by as many as eight in first half, but Sixers outscore NY 24-16 in third quarter (NY 5-20 FGA) and lead the rest of the way…Rookie Danilo Gallinari (6 points, 15 minutes) sees first extended action of season…Sixers author three double-figure point runs in second half (11, 10, 10) and turn 20 Knicks turnovers into 24 points.

Jan. 19 vs. Chicago (W, 102-98): Duhon scores 12 of his 19 points in the fourth quarter while Richardson (24 points) goes 5-6 from Downtown as Knicks top Bulls, 102-98 in annual Martin Luther King Day matinee at MSG…Luol Deng and rookie star Derrick Rose each score 20 for Bulls…Knicks lead by as many as 13 in first half, then come up winners with 5-0 push over final 31.2 seconds…Duhon's layup puts NY ahead to stay (99-98, :31.2 left), then his two free throws with :22.8 left all but decide matters…Knicks are outrebounded 58-41 (18-7 offensive) as Bulls' Joakim Noah collects 18 boards…Knicks improve to 17-6 all-time on King holiday.

Jan. 21 vs. Phoenix (W, 114-109): Lee posts team-high points (25) and rebounds (16) as Knicks rally from early 13-point deficit for 114-109 win over Phoenix at MSG, snapping five-game losing streak vs. Suns…Robinson scores 20 as NY's bench outscores Suns', 57-18…Jason Richardson (27 points) and Steve Nash (19 asst) lead Suns, but Knicks hold Amare Stoudemire to 6-17 FGA (20 points)…Suns nail three three-pointers in game's final :25.8, but Knicks go 7-8 FTA over same span to seal the win…Knicks go 23-28 FTA (.821) overall, while Suns go just 22-36 FTA (.611).

Jan. 23 vs. Memphis (W, 108-88): Knicks fall behind 7-22 less than five minutes into the game, then outscore Grizzlies 101-66 the rest of the way (35-point turnaround) in 108-88 win at MSG…Lee has team-high points (19) and rebounds (14)…Rudy Gay scores game-high 20 points for Grizz, who are piloted by interim head coach Johnny Davis (Marc Iavaroni fired earlier in the day)…Knicks' bench in spotlight for second straight game: Harrington and Robinson each score 16 as NY bench outscores Memphis', 59-22.

Jan. 24 at Philadelphia (L, 110-116): Andre Iguodala scores 24 points and Andre Miller adds 20 as Sixers shoot .538 (42-78) and hand Knicks 116-110 loss at Philadelphia to halt NY's three-game winning streak…Robinson (26 points) and Thomas (24) give Knicks their only off-the-bench 20-20 duo of the season.

Jan. 26 vs. Houston (W, 104-98): Trailing by nine points in the fourth quarter, Knicks ride a 24-9 run over the final 7:42 for 104-98 win over Houston at MSG, snapping an eight-game losing streak vs. Rockets (first W over Rockets since Nov. 18, 2004 at Houston; 93-92 on Crawford's buzzer-beating three-pointer)… Robinson scores 13 of his team-high 19 points in the fourth quarter…In night of lineup switch, Chandler scores 18 points with seven rebounds off the bench…Rockets play without Yao Ming (knee).

Jan. 28 vs. Atlanta (W, 112-104): Robinson scores 20 of his team-high 24 points in the fourth quarter as Knicks hold off Hawks, 112-104 at MSG…Lee adds 17 points and 16 rebounds; Marvin Williams (28 points) leads Hawks…Hawks go just 17-32 FTA (.531)…Hawks shoot .533 in first half (24-45), .425 in second (17-40).

Jan. 31 at Indiana (W, 122-113): Against his old mates, Harrington scores 21 of his team-high 31 points in the second half of 122-113 win at Indiana, closing out NY's winningest month (9-7) since December 2004 (9-7)…Lee adds 23 points and 17 rebounds, ending stretch which earns him Eastern Conference Player of the Month honors…T.J. Ford leads Pacers with 36 points…Knicks go 15-34 (.441) from Downtown (10-18 in first half).

*Knicks' 9-7 month is their winningest month since December 2004 (9-7)…First winning month since February 2007 (6-5).

"We're starting to get a good feeling around here. We know how it feels to win against good teams and we want to keep that feeling." – Chris Duhon, Jan. 21

(Knicks finish January at 21-25; third in Atlantic, 17 GB)

February (3-10; 24-35)

Feb. 2 vs. Lakers (L, 117-126): Kobe Bryant sets a Garden IV NBA record with 61 points as his virtuoso performance leads Lakers to 126-117 win at sold-out MSG…Bryant smashes prior Garden IV marks of Bernard King (60 for Knicks in '84) and Michael Jordan (opposition mark of 55 for Bulls in '95)…Kobe also goes 20-20 FTA, establishing records for the most free throw attempts without a miss not only for Garden IV, but also for the Lakers and a Knicks opponent (three shy of Dominique Wilkins' NBA record 23-23 FTA in '92)…Kobe's fifth career 60+ scoring game represents highest point total vs. Knicks since Pete Maravich's 68 for New Orleans Jazz on Feb. 25, 1977…Pau Gasol adds 31 points for Lakers; Harrington (24) and Lee (22 points 12 rebounds) lead Knicks, who trail by as many as 20…Lakers play without Andrew Bynum (torn right medial collateral ligament, suffered Jan. 31 at Memphis)…They Said It: "It was pretty amazing. Pretty much everything he put up went in." – Chris Duhon…"I knew when he stepped on the court. Usually he will say hi and say something, but tonight he didn't say anything. He was completely focused. He didn't even say anything to his teammates." – Nate Robinson

Feb. 4 vs. Cleveland (L, 102-107): LeBron James pours in 52 points – the second opposition 50-plus outing in as many games – as Cavs beat Knicks, 107-102 at sold-out Garden…LBJ records the highest-scoring game for a Cav vs. Knicks, and joins Michael Jordan as the only opposing players to author two 50+ games at Garden IV…Harrington, meanwhile, pours in 39 points for Knicks, who are within two points with under 2:00 left…Cavs end game on 5-2 push in final minute; James scores 20 points in first quarter, 13 in the deciding fourth…Coupled with Kobe Bryant's 61-pointer on Feb. 2, marks the third time Knicks have allowed consecutive 50+ point games (twice in 1961-62, as Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain notched back-to-back 50+ games vs. Knicks on Dec 25-27 and again on Mar. 2-4)… James is originally credited with 11 assists and 10 rebounds, which would have given him NBA's first 50-point triple-double since Bucks' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar on Jan. 19, 1975 vs. Portland. However, NBA rules (on Feb. 6) that one rebound was erroneously credited to James instead of Ben Wallace, wiping out LBJ's triple-double…They Said It: "It was another disappointing one tonight. Not because of the 50 points, but because we had the chances to win and were right there in the end and couldn't pull it out." – David Lee

KNICKERBOCKERS HIGHLIGHTS

February 6 - 27

Feb. 6 vs. Boston (L, 100-110): Celtics shoot 14-18 FGA (.778) in the fourth quarter and outscore Knicks 38-24 in the final stanza en route to 110-100 win at sold-out MSG, as Knicks go 0-3 during Garden "Dream Week" vs. Lakers-Cavs-Celtics…Harrington leads Knicks with 27 points; Lee adds 18 points and 18 boards…Paul Pierce leads Celtics with 26 points, while Ray Allen scores 11 of his 22 points in the fourth quarter.

Feb. 8 at Portland (L, 108-109): Brandon Roy's driving, finger-roll lay-up at the buzzer climaxes last-minute Knicks collapse and gives Blazers a 109-108 win at Portland in opener of three-game Western swing…In losing fifth straight game to Blazers, Knicks are victimized by a game-winning buzzer-beater for first time since Ben Gordon at Chicago on Jan. 18, 2006…Lee leads NY with 29 points…Gallinari (6 points, 2-3 from Downtown, 14 minutes) makes first NBA start…Sergio Rodriguez' two free throws with 5:43 left in the third give Blazers a 17-point lead (77-60)…Then Knicks go on stunning 37-7 run over the next 9:18, capped by Robinson's three-point bomb that puts NY up by 13 (97-84) with 8:08 left (Nate scores 15 of Knicks' 37 points during the run)…But Blazers outscore NY 25-11 over the final 7:28, including 8-0 in the game's last 1:43 after Harrington's three-pointer with 1:54 left gave NY a seven-point lead (108-101)…Blazers shoot .538 (43-80) including white-hot 15-17 FGA (.882) in first quarter.

Feb. 10 at Golden State (L, 127-144): Stephen Jackson (35 points), Kelenna Azubuike (22) and old friend Jamal Crawford (21) lead Golden State barrage in racehorse-style 144-127 loss to Warriors, stretching losing streak to five with NY's seventh straight loss at Oakland…Knicks allow highest opposing point total in a regulation (non-OT) game since Dec. 8, 1979 (145 points to Kansas City), as Warriors record their highest point total vs. Knicks during their West Coast era…Robinson scores 30 off the bench for NY, while Harrington returns to Oakland with 24 points (22 in first half)…Warriors shoot .553 overall (52-94) with 12-22 from Downtown and commit just eight turnovers (one in first half)…Richardson does not dress (bruised chest), then Thomas (groin-hamstring), Duhon (ankle) and Jeffries (ankle) are all injured during course of game.

Feb. 11 at Clippers (L, 124-128, OT): Robinson authors virtuoso performance with 33 points and career-highs 15 assists and five steals, but shorthanded Knicks fall short in 128-124 overtime loss to Clippers, their 10th straight loss (0-10 all-time) to the Clips at STAPLES Center to complete 0-3 trip in third annual Nick Brown Classic…Chandler adds 27 points while Harrington (19 points, 11 rebounds), Lee (17-12) and Jeffries (16-10) all author double-doubles…Eric Gordon leads Clippers with 30 points, Steve Novak goes 6-8 from Downtown (23 points) and Baron Davis dishes off 20 assists, one shy of Clippers team record in SD-LA era…Harrington's dunk gives NY a three-point lead (110-107) with :25.0 left in regulation, but Al is hit with a technical foul for hanging on the rim. Novak nails the free throws, then Zach Randolph's hook shot with :11.2 left sends the game into OT (110-110)…Gordon scores six of LA's 18 points in the extra session…Knicks go just 8-33 from Downtown, Clippers go 15-37…Knicks play without Duhon (ankle) and Richardson (chest), then lose Thomas after five minutes (groin).

(Knicks go into All-Star break at 21-31; fourth in Atlantic, 21½ GB)

Feb. 13-15: At NBA All-Star 2009 in Phoenix, Nate Robinson wins his second Sprite Slam Dunk contest by outdueling Orlando's Dwight Howard…Knicks legends Richie Guerin (third straight year by Veterans' Committee) and Bernard King and former coach Don Nelson are among the 16 finalists nominated for induction with the Class of 2009 by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame…Wilson Chandler scores six points with team-high seven rebounds for victorious Sophomore squad in T-Mobile Rookie Challenge.

Feb. 17 vs. San Antonio (W, 112-107, OT): Robinson notches his third straight 30-plus game, pouring in 32 points and adding career-high-tying 10 rebounds in 112-107 OT win over Spurs at MSG, ending six-game losing streak…Lee (13 points, 12 rebounds) and Harrington (11 points, 10 rebounds) add double-doubles as Knicks snap seven-game losing streak vs. Spurs (first win over Spurs since Mar. 21, 2005; 88-75 at MSG)… Tim Duncan leads Spurs with 26 points and 15 rebounds, but Knicks hold Tony Parker to 14 points on 5-20 shooting…Tight contest features 19 ties and 21 lead changes…Robinson's layup with :20.4 left in regulation ties score at 102-102, and game heads into OT as Duncan misses short turnaround at the buzzer…Nate then scores six of NY's 10 overtime points…Spurs play without Manu Ginobili (ankle)…They Said It: "The past four teams we played at home have been the best of the best, and to get this victory, start off the second half of the season is big for us and hopefully we can gain some momentum." – David Lee

Feb. 19: At the NBA trade deadline, Knicks acquire G Larry Hughes from Chicago for Jerome James, Anthony Roberson and Tim Thomas; and F Chris Wilcox from Oklahoma City for Malik Rose and cash considerations.

Feb. 20 vs. Toronto (W, 127-97): Knicks produce four 20-plus scorers and record their biggest winning margin in more than six years in 127-97 rout of Raptors at sold-out MSG…Chandler pours in career-high 32 points while Robinson (26), Lee (24) and Harrington (20) also score 20-plus…Knicks go 17-39 from Downtown (Chandler 6-10) and set club mark with 39 3PT FGA…Joey Graham (19 points) leads Raptors, as Knicks hold Chris Bosh to 12 points on 4-13 FGA…Knicks lead wire-to-wire (as many as 38, biggest lead of season) and 30-point victory margin is their biggest since Dec 2, 2002 vs. Cleveland (32 points, 125-93)…Win No. 23 (in game No. 54) ties last season's win mark.

Feb. 22 at Toronto (L, 100-111): Larry Hughes (3 points, 16 minutes) and Chris Wilcox (5 points, 5 rebounds, 10 minutes) make their Knicks debuts in 111-100 loss at Toronto, as Raptors avenge 30-point MSG drubbing of two nights before…Andrea Bargnani (28 points) and Anthony Parker (24 points, 11-16 FGA) lead Raps, who shoot .512 (44-86) after shooting .409 in Feb. 20 loss…Harrington scores game-high 31…Knicks go 9-13 from Downtown in first half, 1-9 in second.

Feb. 23 vs. Indiana (W, 123-119): Robinson pours in a game-high 41 points – tying a club record for points off the bench – and authors the game-turning play in 123-119 win over Indiana at MSG…Nate's 41 (in 36 bench minutes) ties Bob McAdoo's off-the-bench mark set on Dec. 17, 1978 vs. Hawks (in Knicks' documented day-by-day history since 1964-65), and is also NY season high for 2008-09…Jarrett Jack caps a 33-point night with two free throws to give Pacers a 119-117 lead with 1:01 left, then Nate nails two FTA with :51.8 left to tie the score at 119-119…On the ensuing Pacers possession, Nate intercepts Jeff Foster's hurried inbound pass and races the length of the floor for a layup that puts NY ahead to stay (121-119, :26.1 left). Robinson scores 32 points in second half…Pacers' Troy Murphy hauls in 21 rebounds, as Indiana plays without Danny Granger (foot), Mike Dunleavy (knee) and T.J. Ford (flu)…Win no. 24 (in game no. 56) surpasses last season's total and snaps four-game losing streak vs. Pacers at MSG.

Feb. 25 vs. Orlando (L, 109-114): Hedo Turkoglu scores 33 points while Dwight Howard adds 24 with 21 rebounds as Magic hold off Knicks, 114-109 at sold-out MSG…Robinson scores 32 bench points while Chandler (27, 6-8 from Downtown) and Harrington (26) also score 20-plus…Knicks trail by as many as 17 in first half, 16 in third quarter…Rashard Lewis' three-pointer gives Magic a 10-point lead (100-90) with 2:59 left. Knicks go on 19-11 push and pull within two on Nate's layup with :17.8 left (111-109), but Magic go 6-8 FTA in final :30.5 to keep NY at bay.

Feb. 27 vs. Philadelphia (L, 103-108): Knicks are outscored 29-11 in the first quarter and play from behind the rest of the way in 108-103 loss to Sixers at MSG…Hughes scores 25 off the bench, but is trumped by Sixers' Andre Miller (25 points) and Thaddeus Young (23)…Knicks trail by as many as 22 (49-27 late in second quarter), but rally in the second half and pull to within two points twice late in the game…But Sixers end game on 7-4 push and hold Knicks scoreless for crucial 1:54 stretch in final minutes…Sixers parade to foul line, going 39-52 (.750) while Knicks go 21-24 FTA (.875)…Knicks are swept in season series vs. Sixers (0-4) for first time since 1985-86 (0-6).

Feb. 28 at Miami (L, 115-120): Dwyane Wade scores 24 of his game-high 46 points during a frantic fourth quarter as Knicks squander 16-point lead in game's final 9:35 in stunning 120-115 loss at Miami…Robinson scores 29 off the bench; Nate and Duhon collect five three-pointers each as Knicks go 16-34 (.471) from Downtown…Knicks shoot .590 (23-39) in first half en route to building a lead that reaches 16 points (102-86) on Harrington's two FTM with 9:35 left…A minute later, Wade catches an inadvertent elbow to the mouth from Gallinari, then Heat rip off 19 straight points (Wade 15 of the 19), hold Knicks scoreless for 4:52, and take a lead they will never relinquish…Wade's jumper with 1:04 left puts Heat ahead for good (116-114)…Knicks shoot .385 (15-39) in second half… They Said It: "It's a punch in the stomach, no doubt about it. We've had a lot of games we've blown." – Mike D'Antoni

"We've got to try to somehow get close to 40 wins and we've got 24, so we need 16, any which way. If we win our last 16 in a row, I'll take that. Somehow we've got to get there. That will give us a good chance to get into the playoffs." – Mike D'Antoni, Feb. 26

"I think that's a legitimate goal for us. More than anything it will keep us concentrating on each game going forward. That's what is most important. The biggest thing is we're getting better and we've already won more games than last year. Our goal is to look back at the end of the season and say, 'Wow, we won more games. Look at the direction we're headed.'" – David Lee, Feb. 26

(Knicks finish February at 24-35, fourth in Atlantic, 22½ GB)

Mar. 23 vs. Orlando (L, 102-106): Magic outscore Knicks 36-23 in the fourth quarter (32-18 over the final 8:26) and hand Knicks fifth straight loss, 106-102 at sold-out MSG…Magic's Dwight Howard notches game-high points (29) and rebounds (14), while Hedo Turkoglu scores 12 of his 16 points in the deciding fourth quarter…Knicks lead by as many as 11 (79-68) late in third quarter and 10 (84-74) with under 9:00 left…Knicks go just 21-33 FTA (.636) as Wilcox goes 0-6 FTA to tie club mark…Knicks play without Hughes (toe)…Loss No. 42 (in game No. 70) assures Knicks of eighth straight losing season…Halftime ceremony honors class of Knicks Legends (Dick McGuire, Carl Braun, Richie Guerin, Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Bernard King and Patrick Ewing).

Mar. 25 vs. Clippers (L, 135-140, OT): Rookie Mike Taylor (35 points) and a returning Zach Randolph (33) lead Clippers comeback in stunning 140-135 OT loss at MSG as losing streak reaches six (tying season high)…Harrington pours in 38 points but is involved in game-turning play in final seconds of regulation…Knicks shoot blistering 19-24 FGA (.792) in first quarter, scoring 44 points (one shy of all-time team mark for a first quarter) and taking as much as a 19-point lead (40-21)…Clippers outscore Knicks 67-49 over second-third quarters…Harrington's slam dunk gives NY a 127-124 lead with :27.9 left but -- in a déjà vu moment harkening back to Feb. 11 game in LA -- is once again called for a technical foul for hanging on the rim. Eric Gordon FTM and two FTM by Randolph (:13.3 left) send game into OT, then Taylor scores six of LA's 13 points in OT…Win allows Clippers to sweep season series vs. NY for third time in last four seasons…Blown lead in loss (19 points) is NY's biggest since Apr. 12, 2005 vs. Toronto (19-pt lead in 105-93 loss).

Mar. 27 vs. New Orleans (W, 103-93): Harrington (23 points) and Duhon (15) combine to go 9-18 from Downtown as Knicks snap six-game losing streak with 103-93 win over Hornets at sold-out MSG… Knicks outscore Hornets 35-16 in third quarter to wipe out early 12-pt deficit…David West (29 points) and Chris Paul (22 points, 10 assists) lead Hornets…Knicks record first season sweep of Hornets (2-0) since 1991-92 (4-0)…Hornets play without Tyson Chandler (ankle) and Peja Stojakovic (back), then see James Posey ejected in fourth quarter for throwing ball at referee Gary Zielinski.

Mar. 28 at Charlotte (L, 85-96): Gerald Wallace scores a game-high 23 points and adds nine rebounds and eight assists to help lift Bobcats to 96-85 win over NY at Charlotte…Chandler and Harrington (18 points each) lead Knicks, who shoot just .376 (32-85)…Bobcats outrebound Knicks 46-34; take control by bridging second-third quarters with 13 straight points…Eddy Curry (0 points, 1 rebounds, 2 minutes) plays in second game of season, first since Jan. 8 at Dallas.

Mar. 30 at Utah (L, 104-112): Gallant second-half rally falls short in 112-104 loss at Utah…Harrington scores a game-high 24 points, but is ejected in final minute (two techs, Eli Roe)…Deron Williams leads Jazz with 24 points and 13 assists…Knicks trail 67-46 at the half, then fall into a 24-point hole (70-46) on Ronnie Brewer's FTM with 11:16 left in the third…But NY then goes on a 47-22 run over a 15:44 span, taking a one-point lead (93-92) on Robinson's two FTM with 7:05 left…Jazz outscore Knicks 20-11 the rest of the way…Knicks shoot 19-41 FGA (.463) in first half, 17-30 FGA (.567) in second…Jazz turn 20 Knicks turnovers into 32 points.

Mar. 31 at Denver (L, 104-111): For second straight night, comeback from 20-plus down falls short in 111-104 loss at Denver…Robinson scores 30 off the bench, 15 in the fourth quarter…Carmelo Anthony scores 29 for Nuggets, who turn 21 Knicks turnovers into 31 points…Knicks trail by as many as 27 points late in the second quarter (64-37), then pull to within three late in the third (80-77) but get no closer…Knicks rip off stretches of 13, 11 and 10 straight points; Nuggets notch runs of 17-0 and 14-0…Knicks play without Hughes (ankle) and Richardson (ankle).

"We've got to start winning some and getting a little bit of an attitude and start understanding that this also sets us up for next year. There's not going to be a time where we say, 'OK, let's just be playing these guys to play these guys.' I don't believe in that. We're going to play as hard as we can every game and try to get better. If it's not for the playoffs, then for next year." – Mike D'Antoni, Mar. 10

(Knicks finish March at 29-46; tied for fourth in Atlantic, 27 GB)

April (3-4; 32-50)

HISTORY

THE KNICKERBOCKERS STORY

Ned Irish: The Founding Father

The City's Team. The City Game. More than six decades of heroes and heroics. That's the legacy and tradition of the New York Knickerbockers, a charter member of the National Basketball Association and one of the benchmark franchises of American sports.

It is a history that includes six of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History – Patrick Ewing, Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Dave DeBusschere, Earl Monroe and Jerry Lucas...a tradition that embraces four of the 10 Greatest Coaches in League history, led by the legendary Red Holzman...a legacy written across eight trips to the NBA Finals and two World Championships, with the fabled 1970 team cited as one of the 10 Greatest Teams in League annals.

The Beginning

It all began on Jun. 6, 1946, when Madison Square Garden was granted a charter franchise in the newly-formed Basketball Association of America. The legendary Ned Irish, who would eventually be enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, was the Knicks' founding father and one of the infant circuit's pioneers.

The newly-christened Knickerbockers debuted on Nov. 1, 1946, edging the Toronto Huskies, 68-66 at famed Maple Leaf Gardens. Former Manhattan College mentor Neil Cohalan was the Knicks' first head coach, while Ossie Schectman, Stan Stutz, Jake Weber, Ralph Kaplowitz and Leo Gottlieb made up the inaugural starting lineup.

This Nearly Was Mine

New York was playoff-bound in each of its first 10 seasons, nine of those under the leadership of Joe Lapchick, the coaching genius whose 326 career wins helped him carve a niche in the Hall of Fame.

The Knicks made three consecutive trips to the NBA Finals, in 1951, 1952 and 1953. But they would be denied the summit all three times: first by Rochester, and then by the dynastic Minneapolis Lakers in 1952 and 1953.

Carl Braun was the club's premier scorer during those early days, averaging 14.1 points over a career that spanned 12 seasons and five All-Star selections. Braun's teammates included Harry Gallatin, the ferocious rebounder who still holds the club record of 610 consecutive games played; the great Dick McGuire, who set a playmaking standard by leading the club in assists for seven straight seasons (1950-56), popular Ernie Vandeweghe and pioneer pro Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton. The greatness of the early Knicks has been certified with the enshrinements of Gallatin and McGuire into the Hall of Fame, joining Lapchick and Irish.

Lean Years

New York made the playoffs only once in a 10-year span from the late '50s into the '60s, a period in which Iona's Richie Guerin earned a permanent place in Knicks lore with his sensational scoring and hard-nosed play. A six-time All-Star with New York, Guerin was the first Knick to score 50 points in a game when he poured in 57 on Dec. 11, 1959 against Syracuse, just one of 13 40-point performances during his career. Willie Naulls, Ray Felix, Jumpin' Johnny Green and Ken Sears were also major Knick heroes in those days.

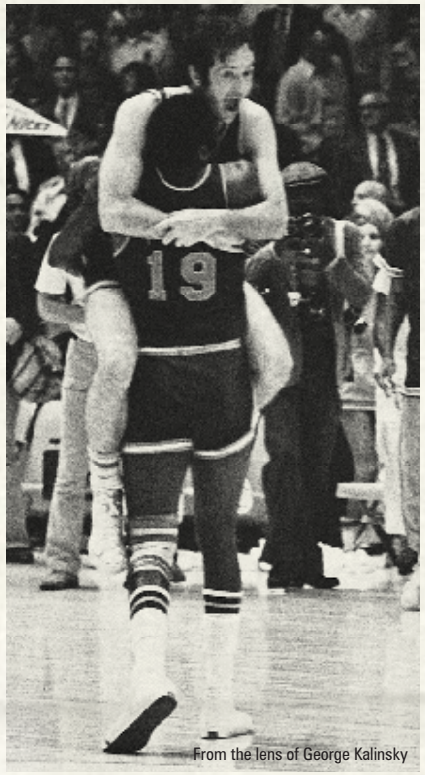
The head coaching assignments during that era were handled by Vince Boryla, Fuzzy Levane, Braun, Eddie Donovan, Gallatin and McGuire.

TAKE IT ALL!

Following a decade in the doldrums, the Knicks franchise would ultimately reach its zenith under William "Red" Holzman, the Hall of Fame coach who took over the reins in late 1967, just prior to the team's move from the venerable Old Garden on 49th Street to the gleaming New Garden above Penn Station. As Holzman assumed the helm, the team's "Golden Era" - which would include four 50+-win seasons, three Eastern Conference Championships and, of course, two NBA titles - was launched.

The Knicks climbed to basketball's pinnacle in 1969-70, riding a club record 18-game winning streak and a 60-22 regular season mark to the team's first NBA World Championship. Captain Willis Reed, the League's MVP, will forever be remembered for stepping onto the Garden court in spite of his severely injured leg, to the deafening roar of a capacity crowd...the impetus for a stirring and decisive seventh game triumph in the Finals against the Los Angeles Lakers. With Reed scoring the Knicks' first two baskets and Walt Frazier adding 36 points and 19 assists, New York nailed down its first NBA title with a 113-99 Game Seven win, forever stamping May 8, 1970 as the ultimate red-letter day in team history.

Along with Reed's contributions, the unprecedented success was keyed by fabled teammates such as Frazier, Bill Bradley, Dave DeBusschere and Dick Barnett, along with "Minutemen" Mike Riordan, Cazzie Russell and Dave Stallworth. Smart drafting and shrewd trades by Holzman and general manager Eddie Donovan - especially the fabled December 1968 acquisition of DeBusschere from Detroit - laid the foundation for success.



Bradley and Reed exalt in '73 title

Holzman's club led the NBA in team defense five times over a six-year span from 1968-69 to 1973-74. The team captured the citizenry of the world's greatest basketball city, selling out the New Garden 26 times in 1969-70 after recording just six regular season sellouts in 22 seasons at the Old Garden.

Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, a Knicks nemesis during his days with the Baltimore Bullets, joined the Knicks in 1971-72 and teamed with Frazier to form one of the greatest backcourts in NBA history. Also acquired to shore up the front line was perennial All-Star Jerry Lucas.

In 1971-72, despite the season-long absence of Reed due to injury, the Knicks won the Eastern Conference title with Playoff wins over Baltimore and Boston. In 1972-73, Reed returned and a veteran Knick squad gutted its way to its second NBA Championship. They outlasted Boston in a classic Eastern Final series and then beat the Lakers in the Finals, becoming the first team in NBA history to defeat two 60-win teams en route to a title.

In tribute to the championship heroes, the retired numbers of Reed, Bradley, Frazier, Barnett, DeBusschere and Monroe hang from the Garden rafters. Reed, Bradley, Frazier, DeBusschere, Monroe and Lucas have all joined Holzman in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Slump, then Surge

New York was a playoff force for nine straight seasons (1966-67 through 1974-75). But then a period of lean times befell the club as the '80s dawned, despite headline performances by Spencer Haywood, Ray Williams, Micheal Ray Richardson and future Hall of Famer Bob McAdoo. Holzman and Reed presided as coach as the Knicks made the Playoffs only twice in a seven-year span from 1976 to 1982.

Two dynamic and unforgettable personalities played the central roles as the Knicks' fortunes turned in the early '80s...head coach and future Hall of Famer Hubie Brown, and scorer extraordinaire Bernard King. In 1984, Brown guided the Knicks to a memorable first-round playoff victory over Detroit. King developed into perhaps the greatest offensive force in club history, becoming the first - and so far the only - Knick ever to lead the NBA in scoring with a 32.9 average in 1984-85.

Jackpot!

On Mother's Day 1985, the Knicks won the rights to Georgetown superstar Patrick Ewing in the first-ever NBA Lottery. It would prove to be a major turning point in the club's history. Ewing authored 15 memorable years in New York, becoming an 11-time All-Star, the all-time club leader in virtually every category and arguably the greatest player to ever wear the orange and blue, a headline performer whose No. 33 would be hoisted to the Garden rafters in 2003. But a crippling 1985 knee injury to King set off a three-year dry spell in which the Knicks would win only 24, 23 and 24 games, missing the Playoffs all three years as Garden attendance plummeted.

All-Stars Oakley, Ewing and Starks

Jackpot! continued…

But a decade-plus period in which the Knicks would again reign as one of the game's elite began in 1987-88. Under General Manager Al Bianchi and Head Coach Rick Pitino and buoyed by Rookie of the Year Mark Jackson, the Knicks gained a playoff spot in the season's final game. The next year, with newly-acquired Charles Oakley and Kiki Vandeweghe on board, the Knicks won 52 games (including 26 straight at home) and the Atlantic Division title. In 1989-90, behind an MVP-caliber season by Ewing, the Knicks rose from an 0-2 hole and defeated the arch-rival Celtics in the first playoff round with an emotional Game Five triumph at Boston Garden.

It's All About Soul

Club president Dave Checketts - named on Mar. 1, 1991 - and eventual President and General Manager Ernie Grunfeld then guided the Knicks into an unforgettable era by hiring future Hall of Fame coach Pat Riley and adding the likes of Xavier McDaniel, Rolando Blackman, Anthony Mason, Doc Rivers, Charles Smith and Derek Harper. The Riley Era - 1991-92 through 1994-95 - resulted in an unprecedented four consecutive 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, and a series of electrifying Playoff runs that captivated the entire nation.

In 1992-93, the Knicks rewrote the club record book with a franchise-record-tying 60 wins, a club record 37 home victories and, ultimately, their first appearance in the Eastern Conference Finals in nearly two decades.

Then, keyed by one of the greatest defensive units in NBA history (91.5 points allowed) and All-Star seasons from Ewing, Oakley and John Starks, the 1993-94 Knicks ended the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an emotional playoff triumph, then bested Indiana to earn their first Eastern Conference Championship in 21 years, only to be denied the ultimate prize in a seven-game nail-biter NBA Finals series against Houston. A 55-win season in 1994-95 and a heartbreaking seven-game Playoff loss to Indiana was followed soon after by Riley's resignation as head coach.

As a final, fitting postscript to the Riley Era, both Ewing and Riley earned first-ballot election to the Basketball Hall of Fame with the Class of 2008.

Jeff's Time

After seven years as an assistant coach, youthful Jeff Van Gundy succeeded Don Nelson as head coach on Mar. 8, 1996. Following the 1995-96 season, Grunfeld engineered an extensive off-season facelift that put Larry Johnson, Allan Houston, Chris Childs and Buck Williams in Knicks uniforms. The results were a 57-win season in 1996-97, followed by an emotional first-round Playoff triumph over Miami in 1997-98, a season

The Big Fella was a member of two NBA Finals teams.

marred by a wrist fracture suffered by Ewing that sidelined the All-Star center for the final two-thirds of the regular season.

Electrifying Latrell Sprewell and youthful Marcus Camby came aboard in 1998-99 to help write one of the most memorable chapters in the club's storied history. Following a 27-23 regular season, the Knicks stormed from the East's eighth seed to win the Eastern Conference title with thrilling Playoff triumphs over arch-rivals Miami and Indiana and a decisive four-game sweep of Atlanta, before the ultimate heartbreak of a five-game Finals loss to San Antonio.

In 2000, the Knicks made their second straight march to the East Finals, highlighted by their third straight Playoff triumph over Miami, as Ewing concluded his 15-year, Hall of Fame Knick career. Van Gundy, meanwhile, would ultimately log 248 career wins to become the third-winningest coach in franchise history, behind only the storied duo of Holzman and Lapchick.

Into The Millennium

Following the end of both the Knicks' string of 14 consecutive Playoff appearances and their decade-long streak of 433 home sellouts, Hall of Famer Isiah Thomas was appointed president, basketball operations on Dec. 22, 2003. Over the next five seasons, Hall of Famers Lenny Wilkens, Larry Brown and ultimately Thomas would coach the Knicks, with Wilkens leading New York to its most recent Playoff berth in 2004. Thomas engineered the acquisitions of Stephon Marbury, Eddy Curry, Jamal Crawford, David Lee, Quentin Richardson, Wilson Chandler, Zach Randolph and Nate Robinson.

Donnie and Mike

A new Knicks era dawned in the spring of 2008, with the naming of New York native Donnie Walsh as president, basketball operations on Apr. 2, and the hiring of Mike D'Antoni as head coach on May 13. Walsh returned to his hometown after two decades in Indiana over which he molded the Pacers into one of the NBA's elite franchises. D'Antoni arrived after leading the Phoenix Suns to four 50-plus win seasons and three Pacific Division titles.

In 2008-09, his first year at the helm, D'Antoni engineered a nine-game improvement in the win column for New York, instilling a trademark high-octane attack that enabled the Knicks to finish as the League's fourth-best offensive team. Off the court, Walsh presided over an extensive roster makeover that not only brought the likes of Al Harrington and Larry Hughes to the Knicks, but would also enable the team to have salary cap flexibility (in 2010) for the first time in more than a decade.

Under the leadership of Walsh and D'Antoni and with renewed spirit and youth, New York's Team faces the new millennium with the promise of even greater heights.

WHAT IS A KNICKERBOCKER?

The Name…

The term "Knickerbockers" traces its origin to the Dutch settlers who came to the New World - and especially to what is now New York - in the 1600s. Specifically, it refers to the style of pants the settlers wore...pants that rolled up just below the knee, which became known as "Knickerbockers", or "knickers".

In 1809, legendary author Washington Irving solidified the knickerbocker name in New York lore when he wrote the satiric A History of New York from the Beginning of the World to the End of the Dutch Dynasty under the pseudonym Diedrich Knickerbocker. Later known as Knickerbocker's History of New York, Irving's book introduced the word "knickerbocker" to signify a New Yorker who could trace his or her ancestry to the original Dutch settlers.

With the publication of Irving's book, the Dutch settler "Knickerbocker" character became synonymous with New York City. The city's most popular symbol of the late 19th and early 20th centuries was "Father Knickerbocker", complete with cotton wig, three-cornered hat, buckled shoes, and, of course, knickered pants.

At the same time, the term "Knickerbocker" became indelibly linked to anything and everything New York...from Jacob Ruppert's Knickerbocker Beer to the 1938 Broadway musical Knickerbocker Holiday (which starred Walter Huston and featured the haunting "September Song") to famed society gossip columnists Cholly Knickerbocker (the nom de plume used by Maury Paul and Igor Cassini) and Suzy Knickerbocker (Aileen Mehle).

The Knickerbocker name had its first use in the sports world in 1845, when Alexander Cartwright's Manhattan-based baseball team - the first organized team in baseball history - was named the "New York Knickerbockers" or the "Knickerbocker Nine." The Knickerbocker name stayed with the team even after it moved its base of operations to Elysian Fields at Hoboken, NJ in 1846. (The baseball link may have prompted Casey Stengel to joyously exclaim, "It's great to be back as the manager of the Knickerbockers!" when he was named pilot of the newborn Mets in 1961).

Thus, the Knickerbocker name had been an integral part of the New York scene for more than a century when the Basketball Association of America granted a charter franchise to the city in the summer of 1946. As can best be determined, the final decision to call the team the "Knickerbockers" was made by the club's founder, the legendary Ned Irish.

The late Fred Podesta, the longtime Garden executive who passed away in 1999, once recalled, "The name came out of a hat. We were all sitting in the office one day - Irish, (publicity man) Lester Scott and a few others on the staff. We each put a name in the hat, and when we pulled them out, most of them said Knickerbockers, after Father Knickerbocker, the symbol of New York City. It soon was shortened to Knicks."

In keeping with another New York tradition, the team's colors have always (except for the years from 1979-80 through 1982-83) been orange, blue and white...the official colors of New York City.

So now you know.

The Logo…

Including minor color and style alterations, the Knicks have used only three primary logos in their 64-year history:

Father Knick: The original Knicks logo, used from the inaugural 1946-47 season through 1963-64, was that of a smiling Father Knickerbocker dribbling a basketball, the brainchild of famed sports cartoonist Willard Mullin of the New York World-Telegram.

Old School Classic: For the 1964-65 season, the Knicks unveiled their "classic roundball" logo, created by artist Bud Freeman of the J.C. Bull advertising agency. It was the logo under which the Knicks won both of their NBA Championships, and, with minor color and style alterations, remained in use through 1991-92.

Alterations to the "classic roundball" logo included maroon lettering (1980-81 through 1982-83), and the "brown ball" (1983-84 through 1988-89) and "orange ball" (1989-90 through 1991-92) versions that were introduced to more closely conform to standard PMS colors.

During the late '60s and early '70s, the Knicks also used a secondary "ball-in-the-box" logo on game tickets and selected club merchandise.

The Triangle: On Jun. 17, 1992, the Knicks unveiled a unique, updated version of the club logo, featuring three-dimensional, modernized lettering newly framed in a triangle. The new logo was designed by NBA Marketing, an effort headed by creative director Tom O'Grady. For the 1995-96 season, the logo was altered slightly to include the words "New York" at the top.

And More: While the "triangle" logo remains the Knicks' primary trademark, the club has used three additional secondary logos in recent years: the Golden Anniversary logo in 1996-97, the "Knicks 2000" millennium logo in 1999-2000, and the circular "NYK Subway Token" logo. First introduced in 1995-96, the "NYK" logo was added to the backs of the players' jerseys in 2002-03, and took on additional nostalgic value with the formal retirement of the subway token by the city's Transportation Authority in spring 2003.

A listing of some of the milestone dates in the Knickerbockers' 63-year history as a charter member of the NBA.

Jun. 6, 1946: The Knicks are born at the first organizational meeting of the Basketball Association of America. New York is granted a charter franchise, along with Boston (Celtics), Philadelphia (Warriors), Providence (Steamrollers), Toronto (Huskies), Washington (Capitols), Chicago (Stags), Cleveland (Rebels), Detroit (Falcons), Pittsburgh (Ironmen) and St. Louis (Bombers)...Of the 11 original NBA franchises, only the Knicks, Celtics and Warriors remain, with the Knicks and Celtics the only two charter members still in their original cities.

Jul. 23, 1946: New York's professional basketball team announces that they will be referred to as the Knickerbockers.

Nov. 1, 1946: The First Game in Knicks History. Knicks defeat Toronto, 68-66 at fabled Maple Leaf Gardens. Leo Gottlieb leads the Knicks with 12 points.

Nov. 11, 1946: The Big Apple sees New York's Team for the first time, as the Knicks make their home debut. Before a crowd of 17,205 at the Old Garden on 49th Street, the Knicks lose to Chicago in overtime, 78-68. CCNY's Sonny Hertzberg leads the Knicks with 14 points.

Apr. 12, 1952: In the first game of the NBA Finals against the Lakers at St. Paul, the Knicks are victimized by a legendary non-call by officials Sid Borgia and Stan Stutz. Late in the first period, New York's Al McGuire hits a driving layup, and is fouled. However, McGuire is sent to the line for two free throws...Borgia and Stutz merely called the foul, and neither saw the ball go in the basket! Despite the protestations of coach Joe Lapchick (including a personal appeal to NBA commissioner Maurice Podoloff, seated at courtside), the call stands. McGuire goes to the line and hits one of two free throws. So, instead of a possible three points on the play, the Knicks get just one. Ultimately, it proves most costly as the Lakers win in overtime, 83-79, en route to a seven-game series triumph.

Jan. 21, 1954: The Old Garden hosts the NBA All-Star Game for the first time, and 16,487 see the East triumph in overtime, 98-93 behind Bob Cousy's 20 points. George Mikan's two (underhanded) free throws with no time left in regulation send the game into the extra session. It's the first of three NBA All-Star Games that will be played at the Old Garden.

Mar. 2, 1962: In the greatest single-game scoring performance in NBA history, Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain scores 100 points as the Warriors defeat the Knicks, 169-147 at Hershey, PA. Philadelphia's 169 points still stand as an all-time opposition high vs. Knicks.

Dec. 9, 1967: Before a packed Garden house of 18,499 (one of only six times the Knicks sold out the Old Garden) and a worldwide press contingent, Bill Bradley makes his long-awaited Knicks debut. Entering the game at the start of the second quarter, Dollar Bill nails his first pro shot, a left side baseline jumper. Bradley winds up with eight points in 20 minutes, but it isn't enough as the Knicks lose to Detroit, 124-121.

Dec. 27, 1967: Red Holzman is named head coach, replacing Dick McGuire (the two exchange positions, with McGuire named head scout).

Jan. 23, 1968: Three weeks before closing its doors forever, the Old Garden plays host to its third and last NBA All-Star Game. Before a sellout crowd of 18,422, Philadelphia's Hal Greer scores 21 points (19 in the third quarter) to lead the East to a 144-124 win. Of the 27 players and coaches selected to participate in the 1968 Game, 15 of them would be named among the NBA's 50 Greatest Players at the League's Golden Anniversary celebration in 1996-97. The '68 All-Star Game is the first NBA All-Star Game to be televised live from coast-to-coast on a major network (ABC) in prime time.

Feb. 10 and 14, 1968: Farewell to one home, hello to another. On the 10th, the Knicks play their last game at the Old Garden; then, four days later, play their first game at the New Garden. The Knicks win both, taking the finale on 49th Street, 115-97 over the 76ers, then winning their first game at 33rd and Seventh, 114-102 over San Diego.

Dec. 19, 1968: The Trade...Walt Bellamy and Howard Komives to Detroit for Dave DeBusschere.

Nov. 28, 1969: "What a game! What a game!" shouts TV voice Bob Wolff. Knicks score six points in the final 16 seconds to defeat Cincinnati, 106-105, and run their winning streak to a then-NBA record 18 straight games (the streak will end the next night with a loss to Detroit at MSG). The game against the Bob Cousy-coached Royals is played at the old Cleveland Arena, later the original home of the Cavs and immortal in rock 'n roll history as the site of Alan Freed's legendary 1952 Moondog Coronation Ball.

May 8, 1970: CHAMPS! Knicks 113, Lakers 99 in Game Seven of the Finals at MSG. Willis Reed's (4 pts, 27 min) last-minute entrance ignites the Garden, then Knicks get 36 points and 19 assists from Walt Frazier to nail down their first NBA title.

Nov. 18, 1972: Trailing Milwaukee 86-68 late in the fourth quarter, Knicks run off 19 straight points in the game's final 5:11 to defeat the Bucks, 87-86 at MSG, in perhaps the most famous regular season game in club history.

Apr. 22, 1973: Roaring back from a 17-point second-half deficit, Knicks outlast Boston 117-110 in a double-overtime thriller in Game Four of the East Finals at the Garden. Walt Frazier leads the way with 37 points as Knicks take a 3-1 series lead over Boston.

Apr. 29, 1973: After squandering a 3-1 series lead with losses in Games Five and Six, Knicks nail down the Eastern Conference title with a do-or-die 94-78 Game Seven triumph at Boston, becoming the first team ever to defeat the Celtics in Game Seven of a Playoff series.

May 10, 1973: CHAMPS AGAIN! Knicks 102, Lakers 93 in Game Five of the Finals at the LA Forum. Earl Monroe scores a game-high 23 points while Willis Reed (16.4 points, 9.2 rebounds) is named Finals MVP for the second time in four years.

Jan. 31-Feb. 1, 1984: Back-to-back 50-point games for Bernard King (at San Antonio and Dallas).

Dec. 25, 1984: Bernard King authors the greatest single-game scoring performance in franchise history, pouring in 60 points in a 120-114 Christmas Day loss to New Jersey at the Garden.

Mar. 23, 1985: On his way to becoming the first and only Knick to lead the League in scoring (32.9), Bernard King suffers a torn right anterior cruciate ligament in a game at Kansas City, an injury that will haunt the Knicks for years to come.

May 12, 1985: Knicks win the first-ever NBA Lottery, enabling them to select Georgetown center Patrick Ewing in the upcoming NBA Draft.

KNICKS DATE BOOK

HISTORY

May 6, 1990: Knicks complete one of the most stunning turnarounds in Playoff history with a 121-114 Game Five victory at Boston, enabling them to snap an overall 26-game losing streak at Boston Garden and become just the third team in League history to rally from an 0-2 deficit to win a best-of-five series.

Dec. 18, 1992: Two years after their fabled 1990 Playoff win, Knicks end another losing streak at Boston Garden with 113-87 rout of Celtics, snapping a 23-game regular season losing streak on the fabled parquet floor (first regular season win at Boston since Feb. 29, 1984).

Feb. 2, 1993: A below-capacity Tuesday night crowd of 17,302 sees the Knicks defeat Washington, 105-100 at the Garden. No one can know it at the time, but it will be the Knicks' last non-sellout for the next nine years, as the ensuing streak of 433 consecutive home sellouts will be the fifth-longest in NBA history. The streak would later end on Nov. 4, 2002 against Milwaukee.

May 25, 1993: In the final minute of Game Two of the East Finals against Chicago, John Starks authors perhaps the single most famous play in Knicks history, splitting the Bulls defense for "The Dunk", a driving, left-handed tomahawk slam that sends the Garden into a frenzy. Coming with :47.3 left, The Dunk gives the Knicks a five-point lead in their eventual 96-91 win. (Knicks led series 2-0 after this game, but would fall to the Bulls in six).

Dec. 16, 1993: Patrick Ewing becomes the Knicks' all-time leading scorer with his 14,618th career point, passing Walt Frazier (14,617)...Ewing's record-breaker is a 12-foot baseline jumper (Oakley assist) with 9:39 left in the third quarter of a 108-85 win over the Lakers at MSG.

May 22, 1994: Knicks end the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an 87-77 win in Game Seven of the East Semis at MSG.

Jun. 5, 1994: Knicks earn their first trip to the NBA Finals in 21 years, defeating Indiana 94-90 in Game Seven of the East Finals at MSG. Ewing (24 points, 22 rebounds) authors the game's key play, a follow-up, two-handed slam of Starks' missed layup, to give NY the lead for good with :26.9 left.

Jun. 22, 1994: Knicks title dreams fall one game short of reality as they lose Game Seven of the NBA Finals, 90-84 at Houston. It's their 25th Playoff game of the season, an all-time NBA record that would not be broken until 2008 (Boston).

Mar. 28, 1995: The Double Nickel Game...Two weeks after returning to basketball, Chicago's Michael Jordan scores 55 points (21-37 FGA, 3-4 from Downtown, 10-11 FTA) to lead the Bulls to a 113-111 win over the Knicks at MSG.

Jun. 15, 1995: Pat Riley resigns as head coach, after leading Knicks to four 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Conference Finals, and the 1994 Eastern Conference Championship.

Oct. 29, 1996: The NBA unveils its 50th Anniversary team to include Dave DeBusschere, Patrick Ewing, Walt Frazier, Jerry Lucas, Earl Monroe and Willis Reed.

Nov. 1, 1996: Fifty years to the day after playing their first game, the Knicks return to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens to open their 50th Anniversary season, defeating the Raptors 107-99.

Dec. 30, 1996: The team records its 2,000th regular season victory, defeating the New Jersey Nets, 98-86, at Madison Square Garden.

Dec. 20, 1997: Ewing suffers the most devastating injury of his career, a Lunate dislocation and torn ligaments of the right wrist, in the final seconds of the first half of a 98-78 loss at Milwaukee. The injury will sideline the perennial All-Star until the second round of the Playoffs.

Feb. 8, 1998: Garden IV hosts its first NBA All-Star Game, the first mid-season classic in New York in 30 years. An All-Star for the 12th time, Chicago's Michael Jordan earns MVP honors with 23 points in the East's 135-114 win.

Nov. 13, 1998: Leukemia claims the life of Hall of Fame Coach Red Holzman at age 78.

May 16, 1999: The Shot (first version)...Allan Houston's running one-hander hits off both the rim and the backboard, then drops through with :00.8 left, giving the Knicks a thrilling 78-77 win in the deciding Game Five of the first Playoff round at Miami. Knicks become just the second eighth-seeded team in Playoff history to defeat a first-seed, and knock the arch-rival Heat out of the Playoffs for the second of three straight years.

Jun. 5, 1999: The Shot (second version)...Larry Johnson's first career four-point play (3PT FGM, fouled by Antonio Davis, FTM), with :05.7 left, echoes throughout the basketball world and gives the Knicks a 92-91 win over Indiana in Game Three of the East Finals at MSG.

Jun. 11, 1999: Knicks become the first eighth-seeded team in NBA history to win a conference title, defeating Indiana 90-82 in Game Six of the East Finals at MSG, to earn their second Eastern Conference Championship in the decade of the '90s.

Jun. 25, 1999: One of the most memorable Playoff runs in club history ends as Knicks drop Game Five of the Finals, 78-77 to San Antonio at MSG, as Latrell Sprewell's last-second miss gives Spurs their first NBA title. It's the latest game calendarwise in NBA history.

Sep. 20, 2000: An unforgettable era comes to an end as future Hall of Famer Patrick Ewing - the all-time franchise leader in virtually every category and arguably the greatest Knick of all time - is traded to the Seattle SuperSonics in a four-team, 12-player trade, at the time the largest single trade in NBA history.

Oct. 17, 2005: Allan Houston announces his retirement as an NBA player and finishes his career as the franchise's fourth leading scorer with 11,165 points.

Apr. 2, 2008: Donnie Walsh takes over the franchise as president, basketball operations after 23 seasons with the Indiana Pacers.

May 13, 2008: Mike D'Antoni is named the club's 24th head coach after leading the Phoenix Suns to four straight playoff appearances.

Sep. 5, 2008: In their first years of eligibility Patrick Ewing and Pat Riley are enshrined into the Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA.

Nov. 29, 2008: Chris Duhon dishes off a franchise record 22 assists against the Warriors at MSG, shattering Richie Guerin's 50-year old single-game club mark of 21 set on Dec. 12, 1958 against St. Louis.

YOUNGEST/OLDEST PLAYERS

The 2008-09 Knicks' roster sported a team with an average age of just 26.2 years at the end of the season, that included five players under the age of 25 (Wilson Chandler, Joe Crawford, Danilo Gallinari, Chris Hunter, Nate Robinson and Mouhamed Sene). Over the last five seasons, two players (Trevor Ariza, Jackie Butler) surpassed Carl Braun as the youngest man to have ever worn the blue and orange. Braun signed a baseball contract after his sophomore year at Colgate and forfeited his amateur status across the board in all sports. The Knicks signed him in the summer of '47, two years before his class graduated and he made his pro basketball debut on Nov. 13, 1947 against Washington.

The oldest player to appear in a game for the Knicks was current assistant coach Herb Williams, who was 41 years, four months and nine days when he made his final appearance in Game 5 of the 1999 NBA Finals against San Antonio on Jun. 25, 1999 to register one minute played. His last regular season appearance was on May 2, 1999 at Indiana at 41 years, two months and 16 days old.

Welcome to the 2009-10 Knickerbockers season, New York's 64th campaign as a charter member of the NBA. Here are a few guidelines which we hope will assist you in your coverage this season:

Credentials: Three media credentials are honored for admission to the Garden: 1) Knicks 2009-10 season working media passes; 2) Knicks daily passes (good for that specific game only), and 3) 2009-10 NBA working media passes. Knicks and/or NBA season working media passes must include the headshot of the bearer. Holders of daily passes may be asked to submit a valid government-issued photo ID. NO OTHER CREDENTIALS WILL BE HONORED.

Application for season or game credentials may be made by faxing the Knicks' PR office at (212) 465-6498, or calling (212) 465-6471. Requests for single game credentials must be made by phone, fax or e-mail to the Knicks' office at least 24 hours prior to game time. Day-of-game requests will not be honored. Radio stations, magazines and weekly newspapers will be accommodated on a game-by-game, space-available basis. When applying for the first time, requests from magazines and weekly newspapers, radio and TV stations must be made on company letterhead and must include copies of the publication (if applicable). Applying for credentials does not guarantee confirmation. When in the Garden, media members must wear their credentials in clear sight at all times. All credentials are non-transferable. Please adhere to the above to avoid embarrassing situations for both yourself and for us.

Coaches Post-Game: Knicks Head Coach Mike D'Antoni will conduct his post-game media sessions in the "Multi-Purpose Room," located down the hall from the visitors lockerroom. A multi-box/amplification system will be set up. During post-game coaches media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch.

Fax: Visiting media needing a final boxscore faxed back to their offices should inform any member of the Knicks gamenight staff during the game.

Game-Day Interviews: Participating radio and TV stations/networks are strongly urged to conduct their game-day interviews at the morning shootaround, rather than at the arena prior to the game.

Locker Rooms: Both the Knicks and visitors' locker rooms are located at court level on the 33rd Street (player benches) side of the Garden. Entering the locker room area from courtside, the Knicks' locker room is to your right and the visitors' to your left. As per NBA regulations, the Knicks' locker room will be open for a 45-minute period, ending 45 minutes prior to game time (for example, the room will be open from 6:00 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. for a 7:30 start). The room will reopen within 15 minutes after the final buzzer. During post-game media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a work atmosphere in the locker rooms at all times. Any media members using their credentials for the purpose of obtaining autographs or taking photographs for personal use will have their credentials immediately revoked.

Notes: Game notes are available in the press room beginning two hours prior to game time. (For visiting media, game notes, credentials, programs and recent news clips will be delivered to their hotel the night before, or the morning of, the game). Game notes, running sheets, quarter-by-quarter sheets and box scores are all available from the Knicks' gamenight staff, as well as in the press workroom during and after the game. Post-game quotes, notes, practice information and boxscores of other NBA games will be available in the press workroom as soon as possible after the game.

Parking: There is no media parking area at Madison Square Garden. However, there are numerous pay indoor and outdoor parking areas in the immediate vicinity.

Phones: Numerous credit-card telephones are available at courtside and in the press room for visiting media. Media wishing to order a phone line for their exclusive use should call Bill Bolan of Garden Telecommunications at (212) 465-6009, and must also inform Knicks PR so that a specific location can be assigned. Due to the quick changeover for other Garden events, all post-game stories should be filed from the press workroom and not from courtside.

Photographers: Positions for credentialed photographers are located on the baselines at the 7th Avenue and 8th Avenue ends of the Garden. There are no photo positions along the sidelines. Free-lance photographers will not be credentialed unless they are on specific assignment from a magazine or daily newspaper. No "roving" passes are issued.

Please Note The Following Photo Regulations:
- Please consult the posted photo charts for your assigned positions.
- Please do not move from your assigned photo positions during game action. Movement is permitted only during timeouts and quarter breaks.
- Please shoot only from your assigned positions unless cleared to move by a Knicks PR representative.
- Please do not move into any photo position marked "Reserved".
- Messengers are not permitted to sit at courtside.
- Please store all coats, jackets and extra equipment in the press room.
- Please keep your courtside equipment to a bare minimum (one small Domke bag).
- All still and TV photographers must observe the NBA's mandatory "Three-Foot Lane" rule.

Baseline photo positions are extremely limited. Due to frequent national TV coverage of Knicks home games, additional space must be reserved for hand-held TV cameras and will greatly reduce the available space for still photographers.

In addition to the "Three-Foot Lane" rule, please be aware of other NBA-enforced regulations: All still and TV cameras must have rubber-capped lenses. Cameras mounted on the basket stanchion must be set back at least four inches from the edge of the padding. Cameras mounted behind the backboard cannot be visible inside the target box from any angle. Tripods and remote cameras placed on the court surface are not permitted. Use of flash is not permitted.

MEDIA INFORMATION

THE FOURTH ESTATE

Practices: Knicks practice sessions are held at Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY, located in Westchester County approximately 25 miles north of New York City.

On off-day practices, players will be available on the court for 15-30 minutes after practice, followed by a media session with Coach D'Antoni. At game-day shootarounds, players will be available either before or after the session.

Knicks practices are always subject to last-minute change and/or cancellation. Media covering practice should always call the Knicks' PR office to confirm times before trekking to Greenburgh.

The Road to Greenburgh: Here are the suggested routes to MSG Training Center:

Northbound, from Manhattan West Side: Henry Hudson Parkway to Saw Mill River Parkway North to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Northbound, from Manhattan East Side: FDR Drive North over Willis Ave. Bridge to Major Deegan Expressway North to NY State Thruway North to Saw Mill River Parkway North to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview". Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Northbound, from Long Island: Whitestone Bridge into the Bronx, then bear left off the bridge to the Hutchinson River Parkway North. Take northbound Hutchinson River Parkway to I-287 West (Cross Westchester Expressway) to Saw Mill River Parkway North. Take northbound Saw Mill River Parkway to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Southbound from upstate NY: I-684 or Taconic State Parkway South to Saw Mill River Parkway South to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear left on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Eastbound from New Jersey: New York State Thruway across Tappan Zee Bridge to Route 287 East (Cross Westchester Expressway) to Exit 1, "Saw Mill River Parkway-North." Press Entrance: Madison Square Garden's press entrance (8 Penn Plaza) is located on the southeast corner of 33rd Street and 8th Avenue. Day-of-game credentials may be picked up there starting two hours prior to game time.

Use the press elevator to enter the Garden arena. The locker rooms and court are located on level five, the press room on level six.

Press Room: Named in memory of the legendary public address voice of the Garden, the John Condon Press Room is located on the first promenade level of the Garden at 33rd Street and 8th Avenue (behind the Knicks' bench, one level up). From the press entrance, take the elevator directly to level six. From courtside, the press room may be reached by walking through Gate 64 and turning right, or through Gate 65 and turning left.

The dining area (hot and cold buffet) opens 90 minutes prior to game time. The press workroom is located behind the dining area, with work stations for print, photo and broadcast media. The press workroom is for the exclusive use of working media filing on deadline. Please confine all social gatherings, arguments, debates and other such conversations to the dining area, so that a professional atmosphere can be maintained in the workroom. If you are not a working media member filing on deadline, please show a sense of professionalism and leave the work area for those who are.

Your $8 contribution to the press room with benefit "Garden of Dreams," the 501 C 3 non-profit charity that works closely with the Knicks and Rangers to make dreams come true for kids in crisis. Garden of Dreams is the new name for the Cheering for Children Foundation. Thank you for your support.

Your press room hosts are Joe Pinto, Roberto Gutierrez, Tom Matthews and Anthony DiGiovanni.

Seating: Press seating at the Garden is located on the Seventh Avenue baseline and in the ramp box located on the 8th Avenue (Knicks bench) end. Those holding Knicks season credentials or NBA season media passes covering a specific game must call the Knicks PR office to reserve seating. Overflow press will be seated in the upper press boxes on the 31st and 33rd Street sides.

Broadcast locations for the 2008-09 season are as follows:

When usually I came to visit him at dusk there was nothing to do. He stood in the shack, counting tickets and rubbing his belly. The radio was always on. "Man, have you dug that mad Marty Glickman announcing basketball games – up-to-midcourt-bounce-fake-set-shot, swish, two points. Absolutely the greatest announcer I ever heard." He was reduced to simple pleasures like these.

George Kalinsky for Madison Square Garden

THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS ARENA

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

The images are endless, burning, unforgettable...Hope and Crosby on Opening Night...Willis Reed out of the tunnel for Game Seven...Pete Stemkowski in triple OT...19 straight points against Milwaukee...Sinatra in The Main Event...Ali and Frazier in The Fight...Ed-die, Ed-die...The Dunk...Patrick Ewing slamdunking the Knicks into the Finals...Mark Messier, Cup in hand, wiping out 54 years of frustration...LJ's four-pointer...The Great One's farewell... The Stones and The Dead and The King and The Pope and Streisand and Carter and Clinton and Bush...

It could all only happen in one place...Not a mere building but a state of mind...The greatest of the great in sports, arts and entertainment, summed up in three words...Madison Square Garden...The World's Most Famous Arena…

1879-1889: 26th Street and Madison Avenue

Beginnings

The current Garden - located between 31st and 33rd Streets and Seventh and Eighth Avenues on Manhattan's West Side - is the fourth building (third site) to be named Madison Square Garden.

Garden I was located at Madison Square: 26th Street and Madison Avenue. It was originally opened in 1874 (at a cost of $35,000) by the legendary P.T. Barnum as "Barnum's Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome." However, it was soon renamed "Gilmore's Garden" when the lease was auctioned off to bandmaster Patrick S. Gilmore (the term "Garden" was used often during this period to denote a place of public gathering and entertainment).

The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, hosted a varied schedule of social and fraternal meetings, flower shows and commercial exhibitions. When Gilmore's lease expired in 1878, it was picked up briefly by W. M. Tileson. The following year, William Vanderbilt of the New York Central Railroad assumed control of the facility and officially renamed it "Madison Square Garden" on May 31, 1879. Featuring a sports and entertainment program that stressed such events as boxing and the National Horse Show, Garden I stood until its demolition in 1889.

Garden II was constructed on the site of Garden I, opening on Jun. 16, 1890 at a cost of $1.5 million. It contained an 8,000-seat main arena, 1,500-seat concert hall, 1,200-seat theatre and the world's largest indoor swimming pool. The Spanish Renaissance-style structure was topped by its most famous feature: a 32-story tower and roof garden atop which stood Augustus Saint-Gaudens's gold statue of Diana, Goddess of the Hunt.

Stanford White, the renowned architect who designed Garden II, also figured in its most famous - and infamous - event. On the night of Jun. 25, 1906, White was gunned down in the Garden's rooftop garden by Pittsburgh millionaire Harry Thaw, allegedly in revenge for White's long-standing affair with Thaw's wife, showgirl Evelyn Nesbit. The White-Thaw-Nesbit love triangle was ultimately immortalized in the 1955 film The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing - starring Ray Milland as White and Joan Collins as Nesbit - and in the recent best-seller American Eve by Paula Uruburu (Riverhead Books, 2008). Nesbit died in obscurity in California at age 81 in 1967.

Garden II hosted a sporting card heavy with boxing, wrestling, six-day bicycle races and horse shows, along with national events such as the 1924 Democratic National Convention, a marathon that lasted through 16 days and 103 ballots. Movie buffs will recall that in Orson Welles' 1941 classic Citizen Kane, Charles Foster Kane's acceptance of the 1916 New York gubernatorial nomination takes place at Garden II (although, obviously, it wasn't actually filmed there).

Garden II closed with a boxing card on May 5, 1925, followed by a mournful eulogy by ring announcer Joe Humphreys: "Farewell to thee, o temple of fistiana. Farewell to thee, o sweet Miss Diana...". The New York Life Insurance Building (51 Madison Avenue) occupies the former site of Gardens I and II, while Diana found a new home at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

1890-1925: 26th St. and Madison Ave.

Garden III - the "Old Garden" - was built in just 249 days at 49th Street and Eighth Avenue under the watchful eyes of promoter Tex Rickard and architect Thomas Lamb. The fabled 18,000-seat arena, built at a cost of $5.6 million, opened with a six-day bicycle race on Nov. 24, 1925, and for 43 years was America's premier sports and entertainment showplace. Ironically, Rickard did not live to see the blossoming of Garden III, suffering a fatal appendicitis attack on Jan. 6, 1929.

Anyone who ever set foot in the Old Garden remembers its unforgettable atmosphere...the sky-high balcony...the haze from decades of cigarette smoke...the main lobby, a schmoozer's paradise...the marquee...G.O. Cards...the organ (played first by Gladys Goodding, later by Virginia Thomas)...the unmistakable voice of John Condon...the Nedick's and Adam Hats stores that flanked the main entrance...

Sports - especially basketball, hockey, boxing and track - would be the lifeblood of the Old Garden. But it also hosted entertainment extravaganzas ranging from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and the Gene Autry Rodeo to star-studded spectacles like Mike Todd's 1957 anniversary party for his film Around the World in 80 Days and President John F. Kennedy's May 19, 1962 birthday party which featured Marilyn Monroe's breathless version of "Happy Birthday." On the screen, the Garden provided the inspiration, and title, for the 1932 Paramount epic Madison Square Garden, starring Jack Oakie and ZaSu Pitts, as well as the on-location backdrop for the harrowing final reel of John Frankenheimer's 1962 classic The Manchurian Candidate.

The Knicks played their first game at Garden III on Nov. 11, 1946, losing to the Chicago Stags, 78-68, in overtime. In the 22 years the Knicks played on 49th Street, they would record just six sellouts, including the most famous of all - the long-awaited pro debut of Bill Bradley against Detroit before 18,499 fans and a worldwide media contingent on Dec. 9, 1967.

Garden III played host to three NBA All-Star Games: in 1954, 1955 and 1968. And although the Knicks made the NBA Finals three straight years in 1951-52-53, the Old Garden never hosted a Finals game. Due to circus scheduling conflicts, all Finals games in those three seasons were moved to the 69th Regiment Armory on Lexington Avenue. The Garden didn't host an NBA Finals game until 1970, two years after the move to 33rd and Seventh.

The Knicks played their final game at the Old Garden on Feb. 10, 1968, a 115-97 win over Philadelphia. The last event ever was the Westminster Dog Show, over Feb. 12-13, 1968. After the Old Garden was demolished, the site was used for years as a Kinney parking lot. The Worldwide Plaza office/apartment complex, which opened in 1989, now occupies the site.

Garden IV

On Nov. 3, 1960, Garden president Irving Mitchell Felt announced plans for a new Madison Square Garden - Garden IV - to eventually be built at 33rd Street between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, atop Pennsylvania Station.

Prospective sites for a New Garden had been discussed throughout the mid- and late-'50s, especially the area at Columbus Circle which would eventually house the New York Coliseum and, ultimately, the Time Warner Center.

Then the Garden Corporation obtained the coveted "air rights" above Penn Station from the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1961. The Railroad had entertained the idea of selling Penn Station's air rights as far back as 1951, when faced with a $72 million deficit. In 1955, Railroad president James Symes and famed real estate developer William Zeckendorf signed an agreement to option the Station's air rights for an industrial-commercial "Palace of Progress", with a new, renovated Penn Station below street level. When the project fell through, the Railroad sold the air rights to the Garden Corporation. Above-ground demolition of Penn Station began on Oct. 28, 1963, with new concrete poured starting on May 1, 1964.

The effort was not without its critics, one of whom called the destruction of Penn Station "an act of irresponsible public vandalism." Ultimately, Penn Station's legacy was the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission, the guiding force behind a series of laws that today protect more than 1,000 individual city landmarks.

Garden IV opened as a glittering sports and entertainment showplace, with its distinctive circular, cable-suspended roof above the 19,000-seat arena, its 5,000-seat Felt Forum, 48-lane Bowling Center, 500-seat cinema, Hall of Fame Club, National Art Museum of Sport, 50,000-square foot Exposition Rotunda and 29-story office building (Two Penn Plaza) attached by a pedestrian mall.

The first element of the New Garden complex to open its doors was the Bowling Center, on Oct. 30, 1967. On Nov. 26, 1967, the Felt Forum opened with a performance of the Welsh and Scots Guards.

The "New Garden" itself officially opened on Feb. 11, 1968, when Bob Hope and Bing Crosby hosted "The Night of the Century," a star-studded salute to the USO. Three days later – Feb. 14, 1968 - the Knicks played their first game in their new home, a 114-102 victory over the San Diego Rockets in the nightcap of an NBA doubleheader.

1968- Present: 33rd Street and Eighth Avenue

ODDS N' ENDS

Cost for design and construction of the present Garden was $43 million.

Garden IV was built by Turner Construction and the Del E. Webb Corporation. The building was designed by Charles Luckman, the fabled entrepreneur and architect who died in 1999. Luckman also designed the Great Western Forum, the Los Angeles Convention Center, CBS Television City, the Prudential Center in Boston and the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

The Garden arena is 425 feet in diameter, 13 stories high, and occupies 820,000-square feet of real estate.

Each of the four entrance/exit towers is over 100 feet high and contains at least 10 escalators.

Seating capacity for Knicks basketball is 19,763. From Feb. 4, 1993 to Nov. 2, 2002, the Knicks compiled a streak of 433 consecutive home sellouts (regular season, plus Playoffs), the fifth-longest sellout streak in NBA history.

The Garden entered the 2009-10 season as the second-oldest arena in the NBA. Only Oakland's Oracle Arena (originally opened in 1966 as the Oakland Coliseum Arena) is older. The Garden and Oracle Arena have both undergone extensive renovations over the last two decades. The 2009-10 campaign will mark the Knicks' 42nd full season (43rd season overall) in Garden IV.

And even though the original Penn Station was demolished nearly a half-century ago, several of its features survive. Sculptor Adolph Weinman's bronze statue of Pennsylvania Railroad President Samuel Rea, which once overlooked the main waiting room of Penn Station, now stands proudly at the Seventh Avenue entrance to Two Penn Plaza. Two of Weinman's 22 concrete eagles, which had adorned the Station's outside perimeter for 53 years, guard Seventh Avenue in front of Two Penn.

THROUGH THE YEARS

A look at the improvements/enhancements at Garden IV over the years:

1972: Garden IV becomes the first New York sports venue to install luxury boxes, formally named "Hall of Fame Lounges." The original deck of 11 luxury suites - each measuring 23x15 feet and accommodating 10 people - is installed above the mezzanine level on the 33rd Street side...Due to the ongoing luxury suite construction, basketball broadcast locations are moved to courtside and directly above center-court exit tunnels. Previously, they had been located in a two-level booth suspended from the roof.

1977: Original end zone scoreboards replaced by new 36-foot long scoreboards in each end zone, and smaller auxiliary boards on the facing of the mezzanine at center court. New boards feature tenth-of-a-second timing capabilities and black-and-white animated matrix boards.

1983: For TV purposes, basketball team benches and scorers' table moved from 31st Street side to 33rd Street side.

1989-91: Over a three-year span, the Garden complex undergoes an extensive renovation program. Initially announced on January 26, 1989, it is a multi-million dollar effort in which…

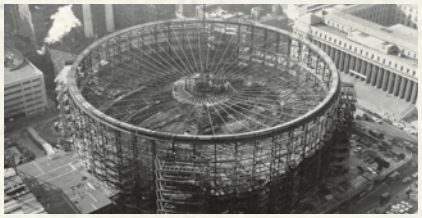
Each of the original red, orange, yellow, green and blue seats is removed and replaced. Primary color scheme is now purple and teal.

Existing scoreboards are replaced by a new computerized system that features the eight-sided Center Display Board (37 feet wide at the top, 34 feet wide at the bottom), complete with "GardenVision" color replay screens and multi-colored end zone boards, by White Way Company of Chicago. It is the first eight-sided scoreboard in a major U.S. arena. Original Garden sound system is also completely overhauled, including the replacement of the original center-hung "sound cluster" with an entirely new system of speaker clusters affixed to the arena ceiling.

Original Hall of Fame Lounges (luxury boxes) are removed and replaced by a completely new deck of 89 Club Suites that encircles the entire arena, including a double-deck of suites on the 7th Avenue end.

The Paramount, a state-of-the-art, 5,600-seat theatre which quickly becomes a hub of Big Apple live entertainment, is constructed on the former site of the Felt Forum (renamed The Theatre in 1995, the WaMu Theatre in 2007). Fronting the main entrance is the Garden Walk of Fame, which opens in 1992.

Two major dining facilities - The Club Restaurant and the Play-By-Play sports bar and restaurant - are constructed on the former site of the Bowling Center and the Hall of Fame Club.



MSG IV construction, 1966

Garden exterior completely renovated, including the installations of animated color matrix boards above the Seventh Avenue entrance to Penn Station and the Eighth Avenue facade.

Dramatic upgrades and improvements in virtually all other facets of the Garden, especially concession stands (including all-new Food Courts), locker rooms, press room, box office, Garden Team Store and broadcast facilities.

1995: Knicks and Rangers locker room areas are further renovated and expanded, including increased player/locker space, expanded training and X-ray facilities and individual offices for all coaches.

2000-09: Ongoing improvement program in the new century features "GardenVision" upgraded to HDTV format and continued expansion of locker rooms, coaches offices, arena sound system, video facilities and exterior advertising capability. Also added are fan amenities including an all-new Team Store at Gate 75, the Garden Pub at Gate 70, The Prime Rib at Gate 76, and the Live at the Garden music museum/pub at Gate 66. New courtside Club seating for Knicks basketball was established in 2006. The following year, an entirely new LED and Matrix center scoreboard and side out-of-town boards were installed. The main concourse now boasts a sushi stand and the MSG Collectibles store.

And a New Era Dawns…

On Apr. 3, 2008, the newest chapter in Garden history unfolded with the announcement of plans to renovate The World's Most Famous Arena, transforming its interior into a state-of-the-art building that will significantly enhance the experience of customers, sponsors, athletes and performers. The renovation will be paid for in its entirety by Madison Square Garden. The lower bowl is expected to be ready for the 2011-12 Knicks and Rangers seasons, and the upper bowl for the 2012-13 seasons.

The full-scale renovation, which will focus on the interior of the building and utilize the Garden's current footprint, will be highlighted by:

— Dramatically redesigned Seventh Avenue entrance.

— New, more comfortable seats, with better sightlines that put patrons closer to the action.

— Public concourses doubling and tripling in size, some with spectacular views of the city.

— State-of-the-art lighting, sound and LED video systems in HDTV.

— Wide selection of food and beverage options, including the Blue Seat Bar, Party Deck and Bridge, all of which open directly to the arena bowl.

— New bar areas that directly open to the arena bowl.

— 58 lower-level suites that are 50-percent larger than current suites and half the distance to events.

— 20 new floor level suites on the same level as the playing surface that provide direct access to the best seats in the house.

— Improved dressing rooms, locker rooms, green rooms and production offices for athletes and performers.

— Additional new restrooms.

— Restoration of the Garden's distinctive, world-famous ceiling.

Utilizing existing space throughout Madison Square Garden, the renovation will dramatically increase the breadth of virtually all customer-related areas while remaining in the Garden's current footprint.

The renovation will generate thousands of New York construction jobs. Brisbin Brook Beynon, one of the world's most respected and creative architectural firms, is leading the renovation team, and Turner is serving as construction manager.

"New York is not a city. It is a set of cities, dozens of them, divided by caste, class, taste and blood. Most of us are welcome in a few of these cities, barred from others by tradition, or fear, or indifference, or income. But all of us hold safe conduct passes to The Garden. It is a center of experience for the same reason New York is: nothing is out of place there. Walk through a neighborhood of New York and you will find people who would never dream of setting foot in Carnegie Hall, the Empire State Building, the Fillmore East, Sunnyside Gardens, The Four Seasons, or the Bronx Zoo. Madison Square Garden is alien to none of us."

KNICKS CITY KIDS

The Knicks City Kids are the kids of New York. An embodiment of vibrancy and spirit, they are known for their youthful vignettes that act as a magical portal, enticing fans to follow them into a different world — a childhood fantasy come alive. Their sheer joy for play, for camaraderie, for fun, reminds us that if we watch a game through a child's eyes, we will leave with a smile on our face.

The KCK are the original NBA kids dance team, celebrating their 11th year performing on the hardwood floor of Madison Square Garden. This gifted group of seven to 14 year olds promises their best, most fantastical performances ever during the 2009-10 season at weekend and holiday games.

KNICKS TUMBLERS

The Knicks Acroback Tumblers are Keeping the Energy of New York. They jolt the crowd with excitement and amazement, connecting us as New Yorkers and as Knicks fans. Like the City, they are graceful and electric as they turn energy into art. With incredible athleticism combined with trampolines and moon boots, The Knicks Acroback Tumblers soar across the court, turning each of us into a spark an individual piece of the City's energy, knowing together we have the power to accomplish amazing feats.

NEW YORK DRUM LINE STICKS

The New York Sticks are a Knicks fan favorite! This drumline is compiled of highly talented young All Star performers from Brooklyn. These skilled students perform renditions of the latest popular songs, as well as their own amazing rhythms during timeouts and player introductions. Along with their precise movements and exciting stick tricks, they always keep the Knicks beat going!

7th AVE SQUAD

The members of the 7th Ave. Squad are true, die-hard Knicks fans. This crazy group lives for every home Knicks game at Madison Square Garden. They love to cheer, dance and have fun to create electric energy and deafening noise to give their Knicks the home court advantage. You can catch this crazy group at every home Knicks game also launching t-shirts into the crowd, honoring lucky fans or their favorite section of the game, and bringing energy to on court contests.

On Oct. 30, 1996, New York was selected as one of eight charter members of the Women's Basketball Association (WNBA). Within four months, Carol Blazejowski, a member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, was named Vice President and General Manager for the New York franchise. Rebecca Lobo and Teresa Weatherspoon joined as the team's first players and the franchise name and logo were introduced.

The Liberty's and WNBA's first game was played on Jun. 21, 1997 in Los Angeles. Led by Head Coach Nancy Darsch, the Liberty defeated the L.A. Sparks, 67-57, before a crowd of 14,284 at the Great Western Forum. On Jun. 29, 1997, in front of a crowd of 17,780, the Liberty scored their first win at home, defeating Phoenix, 65-57.

The 2009 season marked the 13th Season for the Liberty and the WNBA. The New York Liberty have become synonymous with summertime excitement, electricity and excellence.

Under the guidance of Blazejowski, the Liberty have posted an all-time franchise record of 223-201 (.526), a record of 137-75 (.646) in front of the greatest fans in New York City and have qualified for the WNBA Playoffs in nine of their 13 seasons.

The team has finished first or second in the Eastern Conference six times, reached the conference finals three times and appeared in the WNBA Finals four times.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN TRAINING CENTER

With today's professional athletes having to compete at a higher level than ever before, the New York Knicks, along with the NHL's Rangers and WNBA's Liberty started to train year-round in the state-of-the-art Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY in September of 2002. This facility is another proactive element of the organizations' continuing commitment towards supplying Madison Square Garden sports fans with the most competitive teams in their respective leagues.

The Madison Square Garden Training Center offers the Knicks, Rangers and Liberty the opportunity to utilize the best equipment, the best training regimen, the best diets, the best environment – to elevate their performances when they open their respective schedules in the NBA, NHL and WNBA. The 105,000 square foot facility, set on 16 acres of private land in Westchester County, is equipped with well-appointed private areas and office space, exercise rooms with dedicated equipment for each team, the latest technology and first-class amenities.

The facility features two basketball courts and one NHL regulation-sized hockey rink. Each team's area within the Madison Square Garden Training Center includes:
